סֵפֶר דּוֹבֵר צֶדֶק

DOVER TZEDEK

Volume I

Eruvin • Berachos • Ner HaMitzvot • Mishlei • Ki Savo

Interlinear Translation with Annotated Footnotes

Akiva Publishing · 2026

Dover Tzedek

Interlinear Translation with Annotated Footnotes · Volume One · Eruvin, Berachos, Ner HaMitzvot, Mishlei, Ki Savo

This volume presents, in elucidated bilingual form, Eruvin, Berachos, Ner HaMitzvot, Mishlei, Ki Savo. The original publisher’s title-page material appears in Volume I, Hebrew paragraph followed by English.

The Hebrew text of the author is presented with full vocalization (nikkud), followed by a close English rendering in bold and an interwoven elucidation in scholarly register. Talmudic, Midrashic, Zoharic, and cross-textual sources are supplied in the footnotes, together with parallel passages from R' Tzadok's broader corpus.

Methodological note: This edition was prepared with the assistance of AI tools for drafting, translation, and formatting. Textual difficulties and editorial readings are identified in the notes; readers are encouraged to consult the underlying Hebrew of the original Dover Tzedek directly. References to Akiva Publishing editions use their own paragraph divisions, which may differ from those of other editions.

Original work Dover Tzedek by Rabbi Tzadok HaKohen Rabinowitz of Lublin (1823–1900).

Elucidation, translation, vocalization, and annotations © 2026 Akiva Publishing. All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means — electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise — without the prior written permission of the publisher.

Published by Akiva Publishing · First Edition, 2026

Eruvin — Section 1

Mishkan and Mikdash: Shekhinah, Mitzvot, and Divine Indwelling

פֶּרֶק רִאשׁוֹן (דַּף ב׳ עַמּוּד א׳): "אַשְׁכְּחַן מִשְׁכָּן דְּאִיקְרֵי מִקְדָּשׁ" וְכוּלֵי[1] — Chapter One (page 2a): "We find that the Tabernacle was called a Sanctuary," etc.; הוּא עִנְיָן "לְשֵׁם יִחוּד קוּדְשָׁא בְּרִיךְ הוּא" [וּשְׁכִינְתֵּיהּ], שֶׁכָּתַב בִּתְשׁוּבוֹת חַוַּת יָאִיר סִימָן ר״י שֶׁלֹּא יָדַע פֵּרוּשׁוֹ[2] — this pertains to the mystical principle of acting "for the sake of the unification of the Holy One, Blessed be He, [and His Shechinah]," concerning which the author of the Responsa Chavat Yair (siman 210) stated that he did not know its inner meaning; וּבֵאוּרוֹ הַפָּשׁוּט כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב בְּרֵישׁ פֶּרֶק כֵּיצַד מְבָרְכִין (דַּף ל״ה עַמּוּד ב׳): "אָבִיו" — הַקָּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּךְ הוּא, וְ"אִמּוֹ" — כְּנֶסֶת יִשְׂרָאֵל[3] — and its straightforward exposition accords with what is taught at the beginning of the chapter Keitzad Mevarchin (Berakhot 35b): "'His father'—this refers to the Holy One, Blessed be He; and 'his mother'—this refers to the Community of Israel (Knesset Yisrael)"; וְעִנְיַן כְּנֶסֶת יִשְׂרָאֵל הוּא הָאֵם וּמְקוֹר הַשֹּׁרֶשׁ, אֲשֶׁר מִשָּׁם הִתְפַּשְּׁטוּת וְלֵידַת כָּל חֶלְקֵי הַנְּפָשׁוֹת מִיִּשְׂרָאֵל — for the reality of Knesset Yisrael is the spiritual mother and primal root-source from whence the emanated expansion and birth of all Jewish soul-facets emerge; וְיָדוּעַ "חֵלֶק הַשֵּׁם עַמּוֹ", שֶׁנַּפְשׁוֹת יִשְׂרָאֵל הֵם חֵלֶק אֱלוֹקִי — and it is known from the verse "for Hashem's portion is His people" that the souls of Israel are an actual divine component; כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב: "וַיִּפַּח בְּאַפָּיו" — מֵאַן דָּנָפַח, מִתּוֹכוֹ נָפַח — as it is written: "and He breathed into his nostrils," regarding which the Sages established: "He who exhales, exhales from His very core"; וּכְמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב: "וְנָתַתִּי מִשְׁכָּנִי בְּתוֹכְכֶם", "אֲנִי הַשֵּׁם הַשּׁוֹכֵן אִתָּם" — and as Scripture states: "And I will set My sanctuary (Mishkani) among you," and "I am Hashem Who dwells among them"; הוּא חֵלֶק אֱלוֹקִי מַמָּשׁ, הַשּׁוֹכֵן בְּקֶרֶב כִּלְיוֹת וָלֵב נַפְשׁוֹת יִשְׂרָאֵל — this is an actual divine essence residing within the deepest heart and conscious depths of Jewish souls;

וְהוּא דְּנִקְרָא "שְׁכִינָה" בְּכָל מָקוֹם — and this divine immanence is termed the Shechinah throughout all

---

[1] Eruvin 2a–2b: 'We find that the Mishkan is called Mikdash, and that the Mikdash is called Mishkan. For if you do not say so, consider Rav Yehudah's statement in Shmuel's name: Peace offerings slaughtered before the doors of the Heichal are opened are invalid, for it says, "He shall slaughter it at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting"—when it is open, and not when it is locked. Yet that verse was written concerning the Mishkan! Rather, we find that the Mikdash is called Mishkan and the Mishkan is called Mikdash. That the Mikdash is called Mishkan is clear, for it is written, "I shall place My Mishkan among you." But from where do we learn that the Mishkan is called Mikdash? … From this verse: "They shall make Me a Mikdash, and I shall dwell among them."'

[2] Chavos Yair 210: 'One should direct his intention only to the Cause of every cause, the Creator of heaven and earth.… A new prayer book was recently printed by a scholar established in Torah and fear of God.… One of the ordinary householders asked me to explain the author's instruction to say, before putting on tefillin and tzitzis, and in several other places, "For the unification of the Holy One, blessed be He, and His Divine Presence, through that which is hidden and concealed." I answered that these words were intended only for outstanding Torah scholars. He replied that he was not asking to say it or to understand its subject, but only that I tell him the meaning of the words.… To appease him, I told him to believe me on my word of honor that I too do not understand the ultimate meaning and import of these words; and this is indeed the truth.'

Kisvei Beis Ishbitz–Radzin — Sod Yesharim, Shabbat Chol HaMoed Sukkot 25:2: "This means that they [the angels] wish to hear the unification of these two Names—the Name Havayah and the Name Adnut—which Israel unites. For one of these two Names signifies recognizing His blessed light within all the garments. […] That is, through the unification arising from his acceptance of the yoke of the Kingdom of Heaven, a person restores all the garments to stand face to face before Hashem, until His blessed light dwelling within them is explicitly recognized."

[3] Berachos 35b: 'Rabbi Chanina bar Pappa said: Whoever enjoys this world without a blessing is as though he robs the Holy One, blessed be He, and the congregation of Israel, as it says, "One who robs his father and his mother and says, 'There is no transgression,' is a companion to a destructive man." "His father" means none other than the Holy One, blessed be He, as it says, "Is He not your Father, who acquired you?" "His mother" means none other than the congregation of Israel, as it says, "Hear, my son, your father's instruction, and do not forsake your mother's Torah."'

sacred texts; כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב בִּמְגִלָּה (דַּף כ״ט עַמּוּד א׳): "גָּלוּ לְבָבֶל, שְׁכִינָה עִמָּהֶם" וְכוּלֵי[4] — as taught in Tractate Megillah (29a): "When they were exiled to Babylonia, the Shechinah accompanied them," etc.; וּבְסַנְהֶדְרִין (דַּף מ״ו עַמּוּד א׳): "שְׁכִינָה מַה אוֹמֶרֶת? קַלַּנִי" וְכוּלֵי[5] — and in Tractate Sanhedrin (46a): "What does the Shechinah say [in human suffering]? 'My head is heavy,'" etc.; לְפִי שֶׁהוּא הִתְגַּלּוּת הַשֵּׁם הַשּׁוֹכֵן בְּתוֹךְ בְּנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל וּבְקִרְבָּם לְעוֹלָם — for She is the revealed Divine Presence dwelling within the children of Israel and inside their very essence eternally; (שְׁמוֹת רַבָּה פָּרָק ב׳) "מֵעוֹלָם לֹא זָזָה שְׁכִינָה מִכּוֹתֶל מַעֲרָבִי"[6] — and as stated in Shemot Rabbah (2): "The Shechinah has never moved from the Western Wall"; הִיא הַכּוֹתֶל רָצָה לוֹמַר בַּכּוֹתֶל שֶׁסָּמוּךְ לַשְּׁקִיעָה, וְהוּא לִפְנוֹת עֶרֶב וְעֵת חֹשֶׁךְ, הַשְּׁכִינָה לֹא זָזָה, מִכּוֹתֶל שֶׁהִיא הַמִּשְׁעָן לָאִישׁ שֶׁשָּׁם שְׁקִיעַת הָאוֹר — that wall represents the western horizon where the light sets; meaning that even when nearing sunset—the twilight hours and seasons of spiritual obscurity—the Shechinah never departs from that protective wall which serves as man's foundational support; כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב (יוֹמָא דַּף נ״ז עַמּוּד א׳): "הַשּׂכֵּן

---

[4] Megillah 29a: ‘Rabbi Shimon ben Yochai teaches: Come and see how beloved Israel is before the Holy One, blessed be He: wherever they were exiled, the Divine Presence was with them. They were exiled to Egypt, and the Divine Presence was with them, as it says, “Did I not reveal Myself to your father’s house when they were in Egypt?” They were exiled to Babylonia, and the Divine Presence was with them, as it says, “For your sake I was sent to Babylonia.” Even when they are destined to be redeemed, the Divine Presence will be with them, as it says, “The Lord your God will return with your captivity.” It does not say “He will bring back,” but “He will return”: this teaches that the Holy One, blessed be He, returns with them from among the exiles.’

[5] Sanhedrin 46a: ‘Rabbi Meir said: When a person suffers, what expression does the Divine Presence use? “My head is heavy; My arm is heavy.” If the Omnipresent grieves over the blood of the wicked that is shed, how much more so over the blood of the righteous.’

Kisvei Beis Ishbitz–Radzin — Sod Yesharim, Rosh Hashanah 40:1: “From Israel, however, His entire desire is to be called the King of Israel: that they should enthrone God within their own understanding and apprehension and thereby be called “Israel, His people.” Israel are the garment and the instrument through which God’s kingship acts. He established this garment in this world, where there is no king without a people; through His people Israel, who accept His kingship, He is called the King of Israel. Thus Israel are garments and instruments of His kingship, for specifically through them the honor of His kingship reaches fulfillment. Consequently, whatever they lack is also lacking from the honor of His kingship. As the Sages said: “When a person suffers, what expression does the Shechinah utter? My head weighs upon Me; My arm weighs upon Me.” When God supplies what Israel lack, this is considered a fulfillment of the honor of His kingship. Since Israel are the instruments of that honor, all their bodily needs are a matter of the honor of Heaven; what they lack is lacking from that honor. Thus: “First enthrone Him”—and through this, everything Israel lack will also, as it were, be lacking from the honor of Heaven. “Afterward, ask of Him”: once they have first enthroned Him, everything they ask, even their bodily needs, is also counted as the honor of Heaven.”

Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Kometz HaMinchah 1:6:1: ““If you have acted righteously, what do you give Him?” (Iyov 35:7), as stated in Midrash Tanchuma (Shemini, section 8): What difference does it make to the Holy One, blessed be He, whether one slaughters from the neck, and so forth? Therefore, “the reward of a mitzvah is a mitzvah.” But elsewhere they said, “Give strength to God” (Tehillim 68:35); and when, God forbid, a person sins, he weakens the power of the heavenly retinue. […] Both are true: the first concerns His blessed essence, and the second concerns the extension of His attributes. The latter is what our Sages, of blessed memory, call “Shechinah,” as stated in Sanhedrin 46a: When a person sins, what does the Shechinah say? “My head is heavy,” and so forth.”

[6] Shemos Rabbah 2:2: ‘Rabbi Elazar says: The Divine Presence did not depart from within the Heichal, as it says, “My eyes and My heart shall be there.” … Although it is ruined, it retains its holiness. Come and see what Cyrus says: “He is the God who is in Jerusalem.” He told them: Although it is ruined, God does not depart from there. Rav Acha said: The Divine Presence never departs from the Western Wall, as it says, “Behold, He stands behind our wall”; and it is written, “His eyes behold; His eyelids examine the children of man.”’

Kisvei Beis Ishbitz–Radzin — Beit Yaakov on Torah, Vayigash 2:5: “Within the collective there is a complete stature that lives always, without interruption. This is the collective’s enduring core of life. In the world, this enduring core of the collective belongs to Benjamin’s portion; in the soul it is Elijah, remembered for good, who lives and endures forever. Both are descendants of Rachel and embody the whole enduring core of life found throughout Israel. Therefore Benjamin’s portion in the sacred realm contained the permanent sanctities, such as the Western Wall, which was in his portion: its sanctity is continuous and uninterrupted. This is the enduring core of life that awakens at every midnight, as the darkness grows stronger.”

אִתָּם בְּתוֹךְ טֻמְאֹתָם" גַּם כֵּן[7] — just as it is written in Tractate Yoma (57a): "Who dwells with them even in the midst of their defilements"; כִּי נַפְשׁוֹת כָּל יִשְׂרָאֵל אֲחוּזִים וּקְשׁוּרִים כִּבְשַׁלְשֶׁלֶת, כִּידוּעַ מַה שֶּׁכָּתוּב: "יַעֲקֹב חֶבֶל נַחֲלָתוֹ"[8] (עַיֵּן בְּמִדְבַּר רַבָּה פָּרָק ט׳) — because the souls of all Israel are intertwined and bound together like links of a chain, as is known from the verse: "Jacob is the cord (chevel) of His heritage" (see Bemidbar Rabbah 9); עַד שֶׁהִתְגַּלּוּת אוֹר אֲלוֹקִי בְּהֶעְלֵם וְהֶסְתֵּר וְצִמְצוּם גָּדוֹל אֵין בָּעוֹלָם מִכָּל לֵב אִישׁ יִשְׂרָאֵל — to the extent that this divine light, though veiled within deep concealment and profound contraction (tzimtzum), is never utterly absent from the heart of any Jew; אַף הַפָּחוּת שֶׁבַּפְּחוּתִים יֵשׁ בּוֹ חֵלֶק חַיִּים, אֲשֶׁר חָלַק לוֹ הַשֵּׁם מֵחֵלֶק אֱלוֹקִי מִמַּעַל — even the lowliest of individuals harbors an indelible spark of spiritual life allotted to him by Hashem from the Divine inheritance on High.

וְנִקְרֵאת בְּכָל מָקוֹם הַשְּׁכִינָה בִּלְשׁוֹן נְקֵבָה, כִּי הִיא בְּמַדְרֵגַת אֵם כַּנִּזְכָּר לְעֵיל — The Shechinah is consistently referenced in the feminine form because She exists at the maternal level, as mentioned above; וְהֵינוּ כִּי בֶּאֱמֶת עֶצֶם אוֹר הַשֵּׁם גָּדוֹל מְאֹד, וְאִי אֶפְשָׁר לְהָיוֹת מֻשָּׂג לְלֵב בְּנֵי אָדָם כְּלָל, כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב: "כִּי לֹא יִרְאַנִי הָאָדָם וָחָי" — this is because the essential transcendent Light of Hashem is infinitely beyond grasp and cannot be directly perceived by the mortal human heart, as written: "For no man shall see Me and live"; וְזֶהוּ תֹּאַר "הַקָּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּךְ הוּא" — הוֹרָאַת קְדֻשָּׁה בְּכָל מָקוֹם הַבְדָּלָה, שֶׁהוּא נִבְדָּל מִבְּנֵי אָדָם, וְהֵינוּ אוֹר הַשֵּׁם הַנִּבְדָּל מִלִּבּוֹת הַיִּשְׂרְאֵלִי — and this defines the title HaKadosh Baruch Hu (the Holy One, Blessed be He), for holiness (kedushah) always denotes distinction and separateness, signifying that He transcends created

---

[7] Yoma 57a: ‘“Now you are certainly impure, for it is written, ‘Her impurity is in her skirts.’” He replied: “Come and see what is written concerning them: ‘Who dwells with them in the midst of their impurities.’ Even when they are impure, the Divine Presence rests among them.”’

Kisvei Beis Ishbitz–Radzin — Mei HaShiloach, Volume I, Exodus, Ki Tisa 6: ‘“‘He said to Him: If Your Presence does not go, do not take us up from here.” Moses asked God that even while God was clothed in this garment—the one discussed above—if any Jew should sin, the sin should not reach the depth of the heart. Nor should that person become discouraged, fearing that he had, God forbid, withdrawn from God, who is called “This is my God.” This is the meaning of “Then I and Your people will be distinguished from every people upon the face of the earth.” The distinction between Israel and the nations should not depend only upon commandments and good deeds, for they too can perform deeds that have a good outward appearance. Rather, even when a Jew sins, the sin should not resemble the deeds of the nations: it should remain only outward, while the depth of his heart remains bound and attached to God.”

Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Takanat HaShavin 10:16: “In truth, concerning the blessed God it is said, “Even darkness does not darken [before You],” and so forth, and it is said, “I am Hashem who dwells with them in the midst of their impurities.” Although impurity is the opposite of purity and holiness, and from the perspective of what is revealed in this world it appears that impurity removes holiness, this is from the perspective of this world of falsehood. But Israel, the seed of truth, recognize the truth: nothing can possibly exist without the power of the blessed God that gives it life, even if it is utterly concealed and sunk wherever it has sunk. Even “when I walk in the valley of the shadow of death”—the ultimate darkness that “darkened the faces of created beings”—“I will fear no evil”: the root of evil that gives power to impurity and the shadow of death and removes the Shechinah. I will not fear this, “for You are with me,” even there. Consequently, when a person believes and recognizes this, the evil departs, for “evil cannot dwell with You.”’”

[8] Bamidbar Rabbah 9:7: ‘I said, “For the Lord’s portion is His people; Jacob is the cord of His inheritance.” I took Jacob as an inheritance, and he was My portion, because his offspring resembled a cord whose strands are linked to one another: they were all of established lineage, the children of their fathers, with no other offspring interrupting them. They all guarded themselves against adultery, and there was no illegitimate lineage among them. How so? It is written, “Elazar begot Pinchas; Pinchas begot Avishua,” and so with them all: the chain continued in this manner.’

Kisvei Beis Ishbitz–Radzin — Mei HaShiloach, Volume I, Leviticus, Vayikra 4: ‘“‘A person, when he brings from among you an offering to God.” It does not say, “A person from among you, when he brings.” This teaches that one who comes to bring an offering to God should not seek self-exaltation or to stand above his fellow; rather, he should place himself on an equal footing with all Israel. [As we find in the Gemara (Berakhot 31a), a person is obligated to pray three times a day. Yet he also prays for bodily needs, so he ought to pray all day. Since it is impossible to pray all day, when he refines himself at these three times of prayer, this establishes that his heart is always praying to God. As it is with a single soul, so it is with the totality of Israel’s souls: they are all bound together like one chain. When a person prays for some good, he brings its refinement to all Israel. Therefore one who comes to offer to God should not seek self-exaltation or to stand above his fellow, for through this all Israel are refined. End of supplement.]”

Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Tzidkat HaTzadik 163:1: “All souls form one bond, as in “Yaakov, the cord of His inheritance.” If one pulls upward, all are drawn upward, and likewise in the opposite direction, in the manner of “one sinner destroys much good.” […] The blessed God holds the head of the cord. […] for it is impossible to sever the cord: “Yaakov is the cord of His inheritance,” and the blessed God does not abandon them, but, as it were, is drawn along with them.”

humanity as the transcendent Divine Light elevated above direct human contemplation; וּלְפִי שֶׁרָצָה יִתְבָּרַךְ שְׁמוֹ שֶׁיִּשְׁיגוּ הַנִּבְרָאִים גַּם כֵּן מַאוֹרוֹ, צִמְצֵם יִתְבָּרַךְ הֶאָרָתוֹ שֶׁתִּהְיֶה מֻגְבֶּלֶת וּמְצֻמְצֶמֶת וְלֹא בְּתַקֶף וְחָזָק כָּל כָּךְ — yet because He willed that created beings should nevertheless receive of His illumination, He contracted His radiance to be channeled and defined rather than intensely overwhelming; [וְהִתְשִׁישׁוּת כֹּחַ נִרְמָז בְּכָל מָקוֹם בִּלְשׁוֹן נְקֵבָה, כְּמוֹ שֶׁפָּתְבוּ זִכְרוֹנָם לִבְרָכָה בְּכַמָּה מְקוֹמוֹת טַעַם בְּכַיּוֹצֵא בּוֹ (בְּרָכוֹת דַּף ל״ב עַמּוּד א׳): "יָכֹלְתְּ, 'יָכֹלְתָּ' מִבָּעֵי לֵיהּ — [9] — (and this intentional softening and containment of force is hinted at through feminine terminology, as our Sages explained in Berakhot 32a: "You said yakholta; it should have said yakholt—implying power held in reserve like a female," etc.); וְהוּא כֹּחַ אוֹר שְׁכִינָתוֹ יִתְבָּרַךְ בְּתוֹךְ לִבְבוֹת בְּנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל[10] — and this channeled potency constitutes the manifest presence of His Shechinah within the hearts of the Children of Israel;

וּכְעִנְיַן הָאֵם הַמְגַדֶּלֶת בְּנָהּ, כָּךְ גִּדּוּל הַחַיִּים הַנִּצָּחִיִּים שֶׁבִּנְפָשׁוֹת בְּנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל הוּא אוֹר הַשּׂוֹכֵן בָּם, וְעַל יָדָהּ מִתְנַהֲגִים כָּל עִנְיְנֵי הַחַיִּים הָאֲמִתִּיִּים וְהֶבְדֵּלָם מִן הַבְּהֵמוֹת — and just as a mother nurtures her child, so too does the nourishment of eternal life in Jewish souls stem from this indwelling light, through which all true, purposeful living is directed, elevating humanity above the beasts; אֲבָל עִקָּר וְשֹׁרֶשׁ אֲשֶׁר מִמֶּנּוּ הֻשְׁתְּלוּ בְּהֶעְלֵם — but the primary source and root from which these souls were invisibly implanted; [כִּי הַהַשְׁתָּלָה הַגְּלוּיָה מִן הָאֵם הַמּוֹלֶדֶת, אֲבָל בְּהֶעְלֵם בָּאָה הַהַשְׁתָּלָה מִן הָאָב שֶׁמִּמֶּנּוּ, וְ"לֹא נוֹדַע כִּי בָאוּ אֶל קִרְבָּנָה"] — (for visible nurture comes through the mother who births, but the hidden seminal origin originates with the father, received by her such that "it is not outwardly perceptible that it entered her innermost self"); הוּא מִן עֶצֶם הָאוֹר הַנִּבְדָּל, שֶׁהוּא הַמּוֹלִיד כָּל חֵלֶק וָחֵלֶק אֱלוֹקִי בְּכֹחַ, וְנוֹתְנָם לַשְּׁכִינָה שֶׁהוּא כֹּחַ הַצִּמְצוּם[11] — derives from the transcendent Essential Light itself, which conceives every divine soul-spark in potentiality and transmits them to the Shechinah, the faculty of contraction; רָצָה לוֹמַר הַכֹּחַ שֶׁיֵּסַד הַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ שֶׁיְּצַמְצֵם, וְיוּכַל לָצֵאת לַפּוֹעַל נִרְגָּשׁ אוֹר הַשָּׂגָתוֹ יִתְבָּרַךְ בְּלֵב בְּנֵי אָדָם, וְאוֹתוֹ כֹּחַ הַשְּׁכִינָה הוּא הַמּוֹלִיד וּמוֹצִיא לַפּוֹעַל — meaning the capacity established by Hashem that allows His light to be focused and felt within human hearts, with that very power of the Shechinah actualizing and bringing it to full birth; וְזֶה פֵּרוּשׁ "אָבִיו" — זֶה הַקָּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּךְ הוּא — and this is the mystical meaning of the statement: "'His father'—this refers to the Holy One, Blessed be He."

וְהִנֵּה כָּל מַעֲשֵׂה הַמִּצְוֹת הוּא עַל יְדֵי חֵלֶק חַיִּים הַשּׂוֹכֵן בְּתוֹכֵנוּ — Behold, the entire performance of the commandments is carried out through the vital spark of spiritual life dwelling within us; אָנוּ עוֹבְדִים לְמֶלֶךְ הַכָּבוֹד וְהַקָּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּךְ הוּא, הַנִּבְדָּל מִכָּל גֶּשֶׁם וְחוֹפֵף עָלֵינוּ — [whereby] we serve the King of Glory and the Holy One, Blessed be He, Who is utterly distinct and elevated above all corporeality yet hovers

---

[9] Berachos 32a: '"Because of the inability of the Lord"—should it not have said, "Because the Lord could not"? Rabbi Elazar said: Moses said before the Holy One, blessed be He: Master of the world, now the nations of the world will say that His strength has grown weak like a female's, and that He cannot save. The Holy One, blessed be He, said to Moses: Have they not already seen the miracles and mighty deeds I performed for them at the sea? He replied: Master of the world, they can still say that He could withstand one king, but could not withstand thirty-one kings. Rabbi Yochanan said: From where do we know that the Holy One, blessed be He, ultimately agreed with Moses? For it says, "The Lord said, 'I have forgiven according to your words.'"'

[10] Tiferet Yosef, Talmud Anthology, Sukkah 1 (excerpt): 'As it is written, "Make Me a sanctuary, and I shall dwell within them": Israel makes room in the heart for the resting of the Divine Presence. The more room a person clears for the light of His Presence, the more His light dwells there. Within these limits a person can labor and bring the matter into his apprehension and understanding, because both the matter and the person have bounds and limits.' Dover Tzedek describes tzimtzum as the capacity for Divine light to dwell within the heart. Tiferet Yosef explains what the person contributes to that indwelling: making room through the bounded practices of mitzvot. The contraction makes encounter possible, while the cleared heart determines how fully it is received.

[11] Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Sichat Malakhei HaSharet 2:20: "And this Name alludes to the power by which the Blessed Name said that there be "enough," contracted and bounded in the attainment of a person's soul and according to his strength, which is the purpose of creation; and this is the place for the Torah, which bounds and contracts a person so that he not be in expansion. And this is what is also called "Shechinah" everywhere, which alludes to "for I, Hashem, dwell in your midst": for the intent of the Blessed Name is within a person and a deep heart; according to the attainment of his heart and mind, so the Blessed Name dwells, contracted to his attainment; for were the light of His attainment, blessed is He, in expansion as it is, it would be utterly impossible for a creature to attain it; therefore the Blessed Name made the power that contracts His attainment, and it is called "Shaddai," and the contracted attainment is what is called "Shechinah."" closely over us. וְהֵינוּ כִּי תַּכְלִית הַשְׁלֵמוּת הוּא הוֹסָפוֹת הִתְגַּלּוּת אוֹר הַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ בְּרִבּוּי יוֹתֵר מִזֶּה — That is to say, the ultimate purpose of wholeness and perfection is the increased manifestation of the light of Hashem, Blessed be He, experienced with ever greater tangible clarity, עַד כִּי "כָּל עַצְמוֹתַי תֹּאמַרְנָה: הַשֵּׁם, מִי כָמוֹךָ" — until "all my bones declare: 'Hashem, who is like You!'". וְעַל זֶה צִוָּה הַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ חֻקִּים וּמִשְׁפָּטִים, אֲשֶׁר כְּפִי סִדְרֵי הַחָכְמָה הָעֶלְיוֹנָה — For this very purpose Hashem, Blessed be He, commanded statutes and ordinances, which, according to the structured pathways of Supernal Wisdom, עַל יָדָם יִזְדַּכְּכוּ הַנְּפָשׁוֹת וְהַלְּבָבוֹת וְיוּסְרוּ הַמַּסָּכִים הַמַּבְדִּילִים עַד שֶׁיּוּרְגַּשׁ יוֹתֵר וְיִתְרַבֶּה הַחֵלֶק אֱלוֹקִי מִמַּעַל שֶׁבְּקִרְבּוֹ — purify souls and hearts through their practice, dismantling the separating veils so that the transcendent divine portion within a person is felt more palpably and intensified.

וְהֵינוּ שֶׁיִּוָּלֵד בְּקֶרֶב לִבּוֹ עוֹד חֵלֶק אוֹר וְהַשָּׂגַת הַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ בְּכָל עֲבוֹדָה וַעֲבוֹדָה — This means that in the midst of the heart there is born an additional measure of light and divine perception through each and every act of service; וְכָל לֵידָה הִיא עַל יְדֵי אָב וָאֵם — and since every birth requires both a father and a mother, הֵינוּ שֶׁיִּשְׁפַּע מֵאוֹר כְּבוֹדוֹ יִתְבָּרַךְ שְׁמוֹ עוֹד אוֹר נוֹסָף בָּאוֹר הַמְּצֻמְצָם בְּקֶרֶב הַשָּׂגַת לִבּוֹ — it follows that from the transcendent light of His Glory, blessed be His Name [the Father principle], an additional influx of illumination is channeled into the contracted light residing within the heart's inner perception [the Mother/Shechinah principle], לְהַשִּׂיג יוֹתֵר מֵאֱמִתּוּת אוֹר וְשֶׂפַע הַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ עַל פְּנֵי תֵּבֵל — enabling one to grasp more of the reality of the light and abundance of Hashem, Blessed be He, across the universe; [שֶׁזֶּהוּ תַּכְלִית אוֹר הַמְּצֻמְצָם, כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב (קִדּוּשִׁין דַּף ל״א עַמּוּד א׳): "שֶׁהוּא וְאִמּוֹ חַיָּבִין בִּכְבוֹד אָבִיו"][12] — (for this is the very culmination and purpose of the contracted light, as stated in Kiddushin 31a: "both he and his mother are obligated in the honor of his father"). וְעַל יְדֵי מַעֲשֵׂה הַמִּצְוֹת, שֶׁעוֹבֵד בְּכֹחַ חִיּוּתוֹ וְשִׂכְלוֹ הַמּוּשָׂג לְלִבּוֹ וּמוֹחוֹ הַמְּצֻמְצָמִים — And through the practical performance of the mitzvot, wherein one serves with the vitality and intellectual grasp available to one's delimited heart and contracted mind, עוֹבֵד לְחַיֵּי עוֹלָם, הֲרֵי אֱלֹהִים חַיִּים וּמֶלֶךְ עוֹלָם — serving the Life of all worlds, the Living God and Sovereign of Eternity, מִתְאַחֵד וּמִתְחַבֵּר חֵלֶק הַחַיִּים הַשּׁוֹכֵן בּוֹ לְמָקוֹר הַחַיִּים — the inner spark of life dwelling within him unites and binds directly with the Primal Source of Life. וְעַל יְדֵי הִתְאַחֲדוּת זוֹ הִיא הַלֵּידָה הַחֲדָשָׁה בְּהַשָּׂגָה נוֹסָפָת — Through this spiritual unification, a new birth is brought forth into being, yielding expanded consciousness and higher perception; [וְזֶהוּ פֵּרוּשׁ "לְשֵׁם יִחוּד קוּדְשָׁא בְּרִיךְ הוּא וּשְׁכִינְתֵּיהּ"] — and this is the true meaning of the proclamation "for the sake of the unification of the Holy One, Blessed be He, [and His Shechinah]."

Fear and Love: The Inner Wings of Mitzvah

וְעִנְיַן "בִּדְחִילוּ וּרְחִימוּ, וּרְחִימוּ וּדְחִילוּ" — And the concept of serving Hashem "in awe and love, and in love and awe," הוּא כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב: "כַּבֵּד אֶת אָבִיךָ וְאֶת אִמֶּךָ", וְנֶאֱמַר: "אִישׁ אִמּוֹ וְאָבִיו תִּירָאוּ" — corresponds to Scripture stating, "Honor your father and your mother" [prioritizing the father in honor/love], and likewise stating, "Every person shall revere his mother and his father" [prioritizing the mother in awe/fear]; וְדִקְדּוּק רַבּוֹתֵינוּ זִכְרוֹנָם לִבְרָכָה בְּקִדּוּשִׁין (שָׁם) יָדוּעַ[13] — and the precise textual deduction made by our Sages of blessed memory in Tractate Kiddushin (30b–31a) regarding this inversion is well known. אֲבָל הָעִנְיָן

---

[12] Kiddushin 31a: 'The son of a widow asked Rabbi Eliezer: My father says, "Give me water," and my mother says, "Give me water." Which of them takes precedence? He answered: Set aside your mother's honor and attend to your father's honor, for both you and your mother are obligated to honor your father. He came before Rabbi Yehoshua, who gave him the same answer.'

[13] Kiddushin 30b: A baraita teaches that Rabbi says: 'It is revealed and known to the One who spoke and the world came into being that a son honors his mother more than his father, because she persuades him with words. God therefore placed honoring one's father before honoring one's mother. It is likewise revealed and known to Him that a son fears his father more than his mother, because his father teaches him Torah. God therefore placed reverence for one's mother before reverence for one's father.'

Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Peri Tzadik, Kedoshim 3:1: "This is what the Zohar means: "His mother"—this is the Congregation of Israel; because awe dwells in her, and she is called "the awe of the Lord," Scripture gives her awe precedence. There is also an allusion to this in the Talmud (Kiddushin 31b): when he heard his mother's footsteps, he said, "I shall rise before the Shechinah that is approaching." He calls his mother the Shechinah because she brings awe into his person, and the Shechinah is called "the awe of the Lord," as explained. […] "Honor" means Torah, as stated in the sixth chapter of Avot. Therefore Scripture places honoring the father before honoring the mother."

יָדוּעַ מַה שֶּׁכָּתוּב בַּתִּקּוּנִים (תִּקּוּן יוֹ״ד): דְּאַבָּא וְאִמָּא הֵם תְּרֵין גַּדְפִּין, וְאוֹרַיְיתָא בְּלָא דְּחִילוּ וּרְחִימוּ לָא פָּרְחַת לְעֵילָּא[14] [15] — However, the esoteric meaning is illuminated by what is written in the Tikkunei Zohar (Tikkun 10): that "Father" (Abba) and "Mother" (Imma) are two wings, and Torah study without awe and love cannot soar upward. פֵּרוּשׁ הַפְּרִיחָה הִיא שֶׁתִּתְקַבֵּל בְּרָצוֹן לְפָנָיו יִתְבָּרַךְ — The meaning of "soaring" is that the mitzvah or Torah is favorably accepted before Him, Blessed be He, עַד שֶׁיִּוָּלֵד תֵּכֶף בְּקִרְבּוֹ שֶׁפַע הַשָּׂגָה מְחֻדָּשׁ — to the point where there is immediately birthed within the person an influx of renewed divine comprehension; וְזֶהוּ רַק עַל יְדֵי הַהִתְאַחֲדוּת דְּאַבָּא וְאִמָּא כַּנִּזְכָּר לְעֵיל — and this occurs solely through the spiritual unification of Father and Mother, as mentioned above.

וְהִנֵּה דָּבָר זֶה אֵינוֹ עַל יְדֵי מַעֲשֶׂה גּוֹלֶמֶת בְּלֹא לֵב כַּמּוּבָן — Now, this spiritual ascent cannot be achieved through mechanical, mindless action devoid of heart, as is self-evident, רַק עַל יְדֵי הַרְגָּשַׁת הַחַיִּים שֶׁמַּרְגִּישׁ בְּלִבּוֹ, וּמִתְבּוֹנֵן בַּחַיִּים הַשּׁוֹכְנִים בְּקִרְבּוֹ — but only through the heartfelt sensation of vitality, wherein one feels and contemplates the Divine Life dwelling within one's innermost being; וּמִתְבּוֹנֵן בְּמָקוֹר הַחַיִּים הַמְמַלֵּא כָּל עָלְמִין וְסוֹבֵב כָּל עָלְמִין, אֲשֶׁר לוֹ תִּכְרַע כָּל בֶּרֶךְ בְּמַעֲשֵׂה הַמִּצְוֹת — and contemplates the ultimate Source of Life Who fills all worlds (Memaleh Kol Almin) and encompasses all worlds (Sovev Kol Almin), before Whom every knee bends in the fulfillment of the commandments. וְהַהִתְבּוֹנְנוּת כִּי "אֲנִי הַשֵּׁם הַשֹּׁכֵן אִתָּם"[16] [17] — Furthermore, meditating on the reality that "I am Hashem Who dwells among them" engenders awe (yirah), as noted in the gloss of the Rema at the beginning of Shulchan Aruch, Orach Chaim (1:1), see there; וְכָל זְמַן שֶׁלֹּא הִגִּיעַ לְיִרְאָה אֶת הַשֵּׁם, הוּא בְּשִׁבְיל שֶׁעַדַיִן אֵין הַרְגָּשַׁת הַלֵּב בֶּאֱמֶת — and as long as a person has not attained genuine awe of Hashem, it is because authentic emotional feeling has not yet permeated the heart.

וְעַל יְדֵי הַהִתְבּוֹנְנוּת בִּקְדֻשַּׁת הַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ הַנִּבְדָּל מֵהַשָּׂגַת שִׂכְלֵנוּ, מוֹלִיד תְּשׁוּקָה וְכִסּוּף עָצוּם לְהַגִּיעַ עָדָיו וּלְהַשִּׂיג אוֹרוֹ הַנֶּעְלָם — And through contemplating the holiness of Hashem, Blessed be He, Who is utterly transcendent beyond human intellectual grasp, there is birthed an intense longing and yearning to reach Him and perceive His concealed Light, כְּעִנְיַן "נִכְסְפָה וְגַם כָּלְתָה נַפְשִׁי" וְכוּלֵי, וְהוּא תֹּקֶף הָאַהֲבָה — evocative of the verse "my soul yearns and faints [for the courts of Hashem]," which constitutes the overpowering intensity of love (ahavah). וְזֶהוּ עִנְיַן שֶׁבְּמוֹרָא הִקְדִּים הָאֵם, וּבְכָבוֹד הָאָב — And this explains why, regarding awe/reverence, Scripture prioritized the mother [the Shechinah/internal immanence where awe begins], whereas regarding honor/love, it prioritized the father [the transcendent Light toward

---

[14] Tikkunei Zohar, Tikkun 10, 25b: ‘Yod and heh are fear and love, Father and Mother, the right arm and the left arm, kindness and might.… Vav is Torah, which rests in the mouth; through the breath of the mouth it flies upon the eagle.… Wisdom and understanding are concealed in the mind and heart, in love and fear. Torah without fear and love does not fly upward.… The small heh, the likeness of a human being, completes the four-letter Name; it is the holy kingdom, the mitzvah, the performance of the commandments, which rests in the 248 limbs. Concerning Torah and mitzvah it is said, “The revealed things belong to us.” Torah and mitzvah without fear and love cannot ascend and stand before yod and heh.’

[15] Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Peri Tzadik, Tzav 8:3: “And just as in the figure of the form of man the two arms are called love and fear, so in the dove, to which the Congregation of Israel is likened, as is stated (Shabbos 49a), the two wings are called love and fear. And it is stated in the Tikkunim that Torah in fear and love flies upward, and without fear and love it does not fly upward; and the Rav, of blessed memory, was asked what root there is for this in the Gemara, and the Rav said that it is found explicitly in the Gemara (Pesachim 50b): it is written “For great up to the heavens,” and it is written “For great above the heavens”—how so? Here, for those who act for its sake; there, for those who act not for its sake. That is, when one acts not for its sake it does not fly upward, and it reaches only up to the heavens.”

[16] Rema, Orach Chaim 1:1: ‘“I have set the Lord before me always” is a great principle of Torah and of the virtues of the righteous who walk before God. A person’s sitting, movements, and occupations when alone at home are not like his sitting, movements, and occupations before a great king.… All the more so when a person takes to heart that the great King, the Holy One, blessed be He, whose glory fills the whole earth, stands over him and sees his actions, as it says, “Can a person hide in concealed places and I not see him? declares the Lord.” Immediately there will come to him fear, submission in dread of God, and continual shame before Him.’

[17] Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Kometz HaMinchah 2:53:1: “Awe comes from nearness: when one stands before the king, one fears him, as written in the gloss at the beginning of Orach Chaim, and as written, “with great awe”—this is the revelation of the Shechinah. Love from a distance, however, is, on the contrary, stronger, as in the familiar example of a son whose longing increases when he is far from his father.”

which love yearns]; וְאֵין כָּאן מָקוֹם לְהַאֲרִיךְ לְכַוֵּן זֶה בְּדִבְרֵי רַבּוֹתֵינוּ זִכְרוֹנָם לִבְרָכָה בְּקִדּוּשִׁין — and this is not the place to elaborate extensively on harmonizing this with the explicit words of our Sages of blessed memory in Tractate Kiddushin. וְכַאֲשֶׁר הוּא עַל יְדֵי הַרְגָּשַׁת הַלֵּב בֶּאֱמֶת, אָז הַמַּעֲשֶׂה פָּרְחָה לְעֵילָא, וְנִתּוֹסַף לוֹ הַשָּׂגָה וְרִבּוּי אוֹר[18] — When the performance of a mitzvah is grounded in genuine inner feeling of the heart, the deed soars on high, and the individual receives an addition of spiritual comprehension and an abundance of divine illumination; "וְזֶה שְׂכַר מִצְוָה — מִצְוָה": "שְׂכַר מִצְוָה בְּתוֹרָה[19] — and this is the inner meaning of what is taught: "The reward of a mitzvah is the mitzvah itself." ["וְזֶהוּ לְשׁוֹן רַבּוֹתֵינוּ זִכְרוֹנָם לִבְרָכָה "זָכָה", וְזֶהוּ לְשׁוֹן "זְכוּת" — וְזֶהוּ לְשׁוֹן זַךְ] — [And this is the root of our Sages' phrase zacha (merited), where zechut (merit) is fundamentally an expression of zach (clarified, pure, and refined).]

Havayah and Adnut: Shema, Kingship, and the Unity of Love and Fear

וְזֶהוּ עִנְיָן יִחוּד הַמְּפֹרָשִׁים בְּסִפְרֵי הַמְּקֻבָּלִים, שְׁלּוּב הַשֵּׁמוֹת שֵׁם הַוָּיָ"ה וַאֲדנוּת — And this is the inner meaning of the renowned unification found in the writings of the Kabbalists: the interweaving (shiluv) of the Names Havayah (the Tetragrammaton) and Adnut (Lordship). וְאֵין הַכַּוָּנָה שֶׁל הַמְּחַבֵּר בְּשִׁלּוּב הָאוֹתִיּוֹת הַנִּרְאִים לְעֵין הַבָּשָׂרִי — The intended aim of the author is not merely the mechanical interweaving of the physical letters perceptible to mortal, corporeal sight, רַק בְּעֵין הַשִּׂכְלִי וְהִתְיַחֲדוּתָם בַּלֵּב כְּפִי הוֹרָאַת רְמִיָּתָם וְהַמְּכֻוָּנוֹ בָּהֶם — but rather through contemplative intellect and their profound unification within the heart, according to what their allusions signify and what is truly aimed at through them. כִּי שֵׁם הַוָּיָ"ה מוֹרֶה עַל הַקָּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּךְ הוּא בְּמָה שֶׁהוּא בְּהִתְפַּשְּׁטוּת לְמַעְלָה מֵהַשָּׂגָתֵנוּ שֶׁיֵּשׁ לָהּ גְּבוּל כְּמוֹ כֵן שֵׁם הַוָּיָ"ה מוֹרֶה "הָיָה, הֹוֶה, וְיִהְיֶה", כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב בַּטּוּר אוֹרַח חַיִּים סִימָן ה׳[20] — For the Name Havayah denotes the Holy One, Blessed be He, in His infinite expansion far above our finite human comprehension; likewise, the Name Havayah denotes "He was, He is, and He will be," as codified in the Tur, Orach Chaim (siman 5), שֶׁזֶּהוּ הִתְפַּשְּׁטוּת עַד אֵין קֵץ הַנֶּעְלָם מֵאִתָּנוּ — which embodies an endless, eternal expansion concealed from our temporal perception, כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב בְּפֶסָחִים (דַּף נ׳ עַמּוּד א׳): "זֶה שְׁמִי לְעֹלָם" וְכוּלֵי, דִּבְעוֹלָם הַזֶּה לֹא נִקְרָא בּוֹ, שֶׁאֵין מוּשָׂג כְּלָל[21] — as taught in Tractate Pesachim (50a): "'This is My Name forever (l'olam / l'alem — to be hidden),' etc.," meaning that in this world it is not pronounced as written, because its transcendent reality cannot be grasped at all.

וַאֲדנוּת מוֹרֶה שֶׁהוּא אָדוֹן הַכֹּל וּמַלְכוּתוֹ בַּכֹּל מָשָׁלָה — The Name Adnut, by contrast, signifies that He is Master of all and that His sovereignty reigns over all existence; שֶׁמִּדַּת הַמַּלְכוּת, אֲשֶׁר בִּשְׁבִילָהּ הָיָה הַבְּרִיאָה הַגְּבוּלִית

---

[18] Tiferet Yosef, Rosh Hashanah 4 (excerpt): 'One must necessarily proceed through the performance and deed of the commandments; intention alone does not suffice. If intention alone sufficed, why would God have commanded the commandments at all? This shows that through intention alone a person cannot reach God's light, but through practical commandments he attains it. Then he sees explicitly that even the power of this action belongs to God.' The added illumination here comes through a deed animated by the heart. Tiferet Yosef explains why neither inward intention nor an outward act can be treated as a substitute for the other: the commanded deed is the garment through which the person encounters the Divine light.

[19] Avos 4:2: 'Ben Azzai says: Run to a minor mitzvah as to a major one, and flee from transgression. For one mitzvah draws another mitzvah after it, and one transgression draws another transgression after it. The reward of a mitzvah is a mitzvah, and the reward of a transgression is a transgression.'

[20] Tur, Orach Chaim 5: When reciting his blessings, he should intend the meaning of the words he utters. When mentioning the Name, he should intend the meaning of its reading with alef and dalet: lordship, for He is Master of all. He should also intend the meaning of its writing with yod and heh: existence, for He was, is, and will be. When mentioning Elokim, he should intend that He is strong and mighty, possessing power over those above and those below, for El denotes power and strength, as in: "He took the mighty men of the land."

[21] Pesachim 50a: '"And His Name shall be one." What does "one" mean? Is His Name not one now? Rav Nachman bar Yitzchak said: The World to Come is not like this world. In this world it is written with yod and heh and read with alef and dalet; in the World to Come it will all be one, both read with yod and heh and written with yod and heh. Rava thought to expound this publicly. An elder told him: It is written "to be concealed." Rabbi Avina raised a contradiction: It is written, "This is My Name forever," and, "This is My remembrance for every generation." The Holy One, blessed be He, said: I am not read as I am written. I am written with yod and heh, but read with alef and dalet.'

(עַיֵּן פִּרְקֵי דְּרַבִּי אֱלִיעֶזֶר פֶּרֶק י׳) וּמְצַמְצֶמֶת כְּאִלּוּ יֵשׁ נִבְדָּלִין לְגַלּוֹת מִדַּת מַלְכוּתוֹ, שֶׁאֵין מֶלֶךְ בְּלֹא עָם[22] — for the attribute of Kingship (Malchut) is the purpose for which bounded, contracted creation was brought forth—appearing outwardly as distinct, separate entities in order to reveal His kingship, "since there is no king without a nation" (see Pirkei DeRabbi Eliezer 10); מִדָּה זוֹ בְּכֹל מָשְׁלָהּ בְּכָל חֶלְקֵי הַחַיִּים אֲשֶׁר עַל פְּנֵי הָאֲדָמָה, הִיא הַנּוֹתֶנֶת חַיִּים כַּנִּזְכָּר לְעֵיל — this attribute rules over all, bestowing life and vitality to every living facet across the face of the earth, as explained above. וְזֶהוּ הוֹרָאַת שֵׁם הָאֲדְנוּת: הַכֹּחַ שֶׁל אֲדְנוּת, וְהוּא הַכֹּחַ שֶׁל הַהִתְצַטְמְצְמוּת וְהַמְצִא בַּעֲלֵי גְּבוּל — And this is the essential designation of the Name Adnut: the power of mastership, which functions as the divine potency of self-contraction (tzimtzum) and the calling into existence of bounded, finite creatures. וְזֶהוּ עִנְיַן מַה שֶּׁכָּתוּב עַל שֵׁם הַהַוָיָ״ה שֵׁם הָאֲדְנוּת — This is the mystery of why the Name Adnut is read and layered over the written letters of Havayah.

וְהַמְקֻבָּלִים רָמְזוּ עַל פָּסוּק: "וַהֲשֵׁם בְּהֵיכַל קָדְשׁוֹ הַס" וְכוּלֵי — The Kabbalists noted the esoteric allusion in the verse: "And Hashem is in His Holy Sanctuary (Heikhal), let all [the earth] keep silence (has)," etc., "הֵיכָ״ל" וְ"הַ״ס" בְּגִימַטְרִיָא "אֲדְנָי", שֶׁהוּא הֵיכָל לְשֵׁם הַוָיָ״ה — where the numerical value of Heikhal (65) and has (65) equals the numerical value of Adnay (65), signifying that Adnut serves as the protective Sanctuary (Heikhal) housing the Name Havayah. רָצָה לוֹמַר: כְּמוֹ שֶׁהַמֶּלֶךְ מֻצְנָע בְּהֵיכָלוֹ, וְאֵין עָצֶם הַמֶּלֶךְ נִגְלֶה רַק הַהֵיכָל אֲשֶׁר מֻצְנָע בּוֹ — This means: just as an earthly monarch remains concealed inside his palace, such that the person of the king is not directly seen but only the palace wherein he is secluded, כָּךְ הִתְגַּלּוּת שֵׁם הַוָיָ״ה עַל יְדֵי כֹּחַ הָאֲדְנוּת שֶׁהוּא מֻצְנָע בּוֹ — so too the revelation of Havayah occurs exclusively through the power of Adnut, within which it is hidden and enclothed. כִּי חֵלֶק הַחַיִּים אֲשֶׁר נָטַע בְּתוֹכֵנוּ הוּא הַמְעוֹרֵר אוֹתָנוּ וּמַעִיד עַל כֹּחַ שֵׁם הַהַוָיָ״ה וְהַהִתְפַּשְׁטוּת עַד אֵין קֵץ — For the spark of divine life that He planted within us is precisely what awakens us and bears witness to the transcendent power of Havayah and its boundless, endless expansion; וְאֵין כָּאן מָקוֹם לְהַאֲרִיךְ[23] — and this is not the place to elaborate further.

וְזֶה עִנְיַן "שְׁמַע יִשְׂרָאֵל" וּ"בָרוּךְ שֵׁם כְּבוֹד מַלְכוּתוֹ לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד" — And this is the inner meaning of the proclamation Shema Yisrael and the response Baruch Shem Kevod Malchuto L'olam Va'ed: "שְׁמַע" הוּא יִחוּד שֵׁם הַוָיָ״ה — for the verse of Shema embodies the unification of the transcendent Name Havayah (Higher Unity / Yichuda Ila'ah), וּ"בָרוּךְ שֵׁם כְּבוֹד מַלְכוּתוֹ לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד" מִדַּת הַמַּלְכוּת וְאֲדְנוּת — while "Blessed be the Name of His glorious Kingdom forever and ever" corresponds to the attribute of Kingship (Malchut) and the divine Name of Lordship (Adnut) (Lower Unity / Yichuda Tata'ah). וְהַיְנוּ כִּי בֶּאֱמֶת הַוָיָ״ה אֶחָד בְּיִחוּד גָּמוּר גַּם עַכְשָׁו — That is to say, in absolute truth Havayah is One in total, unbroken unity even now, כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב: "אַתָּה הוּא עַד שֶׁלֹּא נִבְרָא הָעוֹלָם, וְאַתָּה הוּא מְשֻׁנְבְּרָא הָעוֹלָם"[24] — as we declare: "You were He before the world was created, and You are He after the world was created"; שֶׁאֵין הַבְּרִיּוֹת חוֹצְצִים כְּלוּם בַּאֲמִתּוּת יִחוּדוֹ — for created beings do not constitute any barrier whatsoever against the absolute reality of His Oneness, וְאֵין חֶלְקֵי הַחַיִּים הַנִּגְלִים בָּעוֹלָם מְצַמְצְמִים וּמוֹגְבָּלִים נִפְרָדִים מִמְּקוֹר

---

[22] Pirkei DeRabbi Eliezer 3:5: The corresponding passage is numbered chapter 3 in this edition; the Hebrew text's chapter 10 reference is preserved. 'The Holy One, blessed be He, immediately consulted the Torah, whose name is Tushiyah, concerning the creation of the world. It answered Him: Master of the worlds, if a king has no army and no camp, over whom does he reign? And if there is no people to praise the king, what is the king's glory? The Master of the world heard this, and it pleased Him. The Torah said: The Holy One, blessed be He, consulted me in creating the world, as it says, "Counsel and sound wisdom are mine."'

[23] Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Resisei Layla 56:2: "And this matter is not recognized in this world except by way of faith, in the sense of "and Your faithfulness in the nights" (Psalms 92:3), and "Not as I am written am I read" (Pesachim 50a)—that is, He is grasped in the mouth of created beings only by way of the Name of Lordship, meaning the recognition of His Lordship, blessed is He, that He is King of the world and His kingship rules over all. And even though "in the light of the King's countenance is life" (Proverbs 16:15), nevertheless it is through many contractions and screens and lenses that do not shine to see the truth itself."

[24] Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Resisei Layla 47:3: "And holiness is the complete separation from all the desires of this world, to be cleaved to Him, blessed is He, not by way of recognition but by way of unity. And this is the rung of "truth to Yaakov," whose bed was whole; for when all is one, waste does not apply. And this whole world is a world of falsehood, for the truth is: "You are He before the world was created, and You are He," etc.—that all is complete unity."

הַחַיִּים הַנִּצְחִיִּים וּבִלְתִּי בַּעַל גְּבוּל — and the facets of life revealed within this world, contracted and bounded though they appear, are not truly severed from the eternal, boundless Source of Life.

רַק לְפִי כֹּחַ הַמְּקַבְּלִים, שֶׁאֵינָם יְכוֹלִים לְקַבֵּל כְּפִי תֹּקֶף הַהַשָּׁגָה — Rather, it is solely according to the capacity of the recipients, who cannot receive or endure the overwhelming intensity of His direct light; וְרָצָה הַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ לִהְיוֹת מֶלֶךְ בְּעָם, וְיִהְיוּ מְקַבְּלִים וּמַשְׁפִּיעִים — and Hashem, Blessed be He, willed to reign as King over a people, establishing vessels that receive and forces that bestow; וּכְפִי מְעַט שִׂכְלָם יַשִּׂיגוּ גַּם כֵּן עַל יְדֵי הַהֲצְטַמְצְמוּת — and that according to their modest intellect, creatures might also perceive Him through this process of divine self-contraction (tzimtzum); אֲבָל בֶּאֱמֶת הַכֹּל אַחְדוּת גָּמוּר — yet in ultimate truth, everything remains complete and total Oneness. וְתַכְלִית כָּל הָעֲבוֹדוֹת לַהַוָ"ה — The ultimate objective of all divine service is directed toward Havayah, כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב בַּזֹּהַר (חֵלֶק ג', דַּף ק"י עַמּוּד א') עַל פָּסוּק: "זוֹבֵחַ לָאֱלֹהִים יָחֳרָם, בִּלְתִּי לַהשֵׁם לְבַדּוֹ"[25] — as the Zohar (Vol. III, 110a) elucidates on the verse: "He who sacrifices to other gods shall be utterly destroyed, save unto Hashem alone"; הַיְנוּ שֶׁזֹּהוּ הַתַּכְלִית שֶׁרָצָה הַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ בְּעוֹלָמוֹ, לְפַרְסֵם אֱלוֹקוּתוֹ וְהַכָּרָה שֶׁהוּא אֶחָד — meaning that this is the overarching goal which Hashem willed in His universe: to publicize His Divinity and establish the universal recognition that He is One; וְשֶׁיִּבָּרֵר אֵצֶל כָּל נִבְרָא כֹּחַ הַבּוֹרֵא שֶׁהוּא שֵׁם הַוָ"ה, כֹּחַ הַהִתְפַּשְּׁטוּת עַד בְּלִי תַּכְלִית — and that it become clarified to every created being that the primal power of the Creator is Havayah—the force of endless, boundless expansion; [שֶׁהוּא] בּוֹרֵא, הַבּוֹרֵא לַנִּבְרָא בַּעַל גְּבוּל וְתַכְלִית — Who creates, the Creator forming a creation endowed with boundaries and finitude, כְּמוֹ שֶׁלִּזְמַנּוֹ וּמִדַּת יָמָיו גְּבוּל וְתַכְלִית, וְהוּא כֹּחַ מְצֻמְצָם וּמוּגְבָּל — just as man's lifespan and allotted days possess defined limits and an end, being characterized by contracted and bounded power.

וְזֶהוּ צִוּוּי קְרִיאַת שְׁמַע בְּכָל בֹּקֶר וְעֶרֶב — And this is the profound purpose of the commandment to recite the Shema every morning and evening: שֶׁבְּכָל הַתְחָלַת גְּבוּל נִפְרָד מֵהַגְּבוּלִים שֶׁבָּרָא הַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ לְבַעֲלֵי הַגְּבוּל — that at the commencement of each distinct cycle of boundaries created by Hashem for finite beings [day and night], נָעִיד וְנַכִּיר כִּי בֶּאֱמֶת הַוָ"ה אֶחָד — we bear witness and acknowledge that in absolute reality, Havayah is One; שֶׁהוּא [הָאוֹר] הַבִּלְתִּי בַּעַל גְּבוּל, וְהוּא מְיֻחָד בְּתַכְלִית הַיִּחוּד שֶׁאֵין שׁוּם פְּרוּד חַס וְשָׁלוֹם — that He is the infinite, boundless Essence, unified in the ultimate Oneness wherein there is no separation whatsoever, God forbid; רַק מַה שֶּׁהוּא נִרְאֶה שֶׁהַנִּבְרָא הוּא נִפְרָד מִן הַבּוֹרֵא, הוּא כִּי "בָּרוּךְ שֵׁם כְּבוֹד מַלְכוּתוֹ לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד", כְּדֵי לְגַלּוֹת כְּבוֹד מַלְכוּתוֹ, וְכַנִּזְכָּר לְעֵיל — and that the apparent reality wherein creation seems distinct from the Creator exists solely because "Blessed be the Name of His glorious Kingdom forever and ever"—in order to reveal the honor of His Sovereignty, as explained above. אֲבָל תַּכְלִית הָעֲבוֹדָה שֶׁיָּכִיר הַנִּבְרָא אֶת הַבּוֹרֵא, הַיְנוּ יִחוּד שֵׁם הַוָ"ה בְּאַדְנוּת — But the ultimate summit of spiritual service is that the created being recognize the Creator, which constitutes the unification of Havayah with Adnut: שֶׁגַּם אַחַר שֶׁנִּבְרָא הָעוֹלָם, הַוָ"ה אֶחָד — that even subsequent to the creation of the physical universe, Havayah is One; וְהֵם מְיֻחָדִים בְּתַכְלִית הָאֶחָד, שֶׁאֵין חוֹצְצִים כָּל הַבְּרוּאִים בִּפְנֵי הַיִּחוּד הָאֲמִתִּי כַּנּוֹדָע — and these aspects are bound in supreme singularity, such that no created beings constitute a barrier before this true Divine Unity, as is known. וְזֶהוּ שִׁלּוּב הָאוֹתִיּוֹת, רוֹמֵז שֶׁכָּל אֶחָד בְּכָל חֶלְקֵיהֶם, וְהַיְנוּ שֶׁיִּהְיֶה נִרְגָּשׁ כָּךְ בַּלֵּב — And the Kabbalistic interweaving (shiluv) of the letters of these two Names alludes to their mutual interpenetration throughout all their facets, meaning that this reality must be palpably experienced

---

[25] Zohar III 110a, Raya Mehemna, Behar: 'So too, the Holy One, blessed be He, and His Divine Presence, although they are like souls in relation to the throne and angels, are in relation to You, the Cause of causes, like a body: You unite them and bring them close.… You are the Soul of souls; there is no soul above You and no god above You. You are outside everything, within everything, on every side, above everything, and below everything.… You bring the Holy One, blessed be He, and His Divine Presence close in every sefirah and in all the branches of light that depend on them.… You have no body, no limbs, and no female counterpart, but are One without a second.' Zohar III 110a, Raya Mehemna, Behar: 'A king whose servants, governors, and rulers of the kingdom sent him many gifts said: Whoever wishes to send me a gift should send it only through the queen, to fulfill in her, "His kingdom rules over all." Therefore the Divine Presence is called "an offering to the Lord," "a burnt offering to the Lord," and "a guilt offering to the Lord."… All must be brought to the Lord and His Divine Presence; afterward she distributes to everyone.… Everything returns to Him. Therefore, "One who sacrifices to gods shall be proscribed, except to the Lord alone": one must not grant authority to the Other Side through an offering, for all other gods belong to the world of separation; they possess neither closeness nor unification.'

within the human heart.

וְזֶה עַל יְדֵי אַהֲבָה וְיִרְאָה כַּנִּזְכָּר לְעֵיל, וְאָז אַהֲבָה וְיִרְאָה מִתְאַחֲדִים כְּאֶחָד [כְּעִנְיַן "אַבְרָהָם הוֹלִיד אֶת יִצְחָק"] — And this realization is attained through love and awe, as explained above, whereupon love and awe fuse into one (in the manner of "Abraham begot Isaac," where lovingkindness gives birth to reverent restraint); וְזֶה שֶׁכָּתוּב בְּתָנָא דְּבֵי אֵלִיָּהוּ רַבָּה (רֵישׁ פֶּרֶק ג׳): "אֲנִי יָרֵאתִי", שֶׁהָיוּ מְיֻחָדִים הָאַהֲבָה וְיִרְאָה יַחַד[26] — and this is what is stated in Tanna D'vei Eliyahu Rabbah (beginning of ch. 3): "I revere [out of joy]," signifying that love and awe were unified harmoniously together. וְזֶהוּ פֵּרוּשׁ: "בִּדְחִילוּ וּרְחִימוּ, וּרְחִימוּ וּדְחִילוּ" — This explains the dual formulations found in prayer: "in awe and love," and "in love and awe": תְּחִלָּה "דְּחִילוּ" קוֹדֶמֶת, שֶׁהוּא הַרְגָּשַׁת חַיֵּי עוֹלָם אֲשֶׁר נָטַע בְּתוֹכֵנוּ וְשׁוֹכֵן בְּקִרְבֵּנוּ, וְאַחַר כָּךְ "רְחִימוּ" — initially "awe" (d'chilu) takes precedence [bottom-up], arising from the inner sensation of the eternal life that He planted within us and which dwells in our midst, followed subsequently by the ascent into "love" (r'chimu); וְאַחַר כָּךְ, כְּשֶׁמַּשִּׂיג תּוֹסֶפֶת הַהַשָּׂגָה, וְחוֹזֵר וְיוֹרֵד מִלְּמַעְלָה לְמַטָּה, אָז "רְחִימוּ" קוֹדֶמֶת — and thereafter, once one attains higher divine illumination and re-descends from Above to below [integrating transcendent light into the world], "love" (r'chimu) takes precedence; וְאֵין כָּאן מָקוֹם לְהַאֲרִיךְ, וְיָדוּעַ לַיּוֹדְעִים[27] — and this is not the place to elaborate further, as it is known to those versed in wisdom. וְזֶהוּ גַּם כֵּן אֵצֶל הַמְּקֻבָּלִים: בְּשִׁלּוּב הַשֵּׁמוֹת, עַל הָרֹב אוֹתִיּוֹת שֵׁם הַנָּיֵ"ה קוֹדְמִים כְּסֵדֶר יְרִידַת הַהַשָּׂגָה — This also mirrors the Kabbalistic practice in interweaving the Names: most often the letters of Havayah are written first, reflecting the top-down descent of divine illumination; וְלִפְעָמִים אוֹתִיּוֹת אַדְנוּת קוֹדְמִים כְּסֵדֶר הָעֲבוֹדָה, וְאֵין כָּאן מְקוֹמוֹ[28] — while at times the letters of Adnut are written first, reflecting the bottom-up sequence of human spiritual ascent; and this is not the place to expand upon it.

Mishkan and Mikdash: From Indwelling Presence to Permanent Home

וְהִנֵּה זֶהוּ עִנְיַן מִשְׁכָּן וּמִקְדָּשׁ — Behold, this is the inner distinction between the Tabernacle (Mishkan) and the Holy Temple (Mikdash): מִשְׁכָּן רָצָה לוֹמַר שְׁכִינַת הַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ בְּתוֹכֵנוּ, וְזֶה עָשָׂאוֹ מֹשֶׁה — Mishkan* (dwelling) signifies the indwelling presence of Hashem, Blessed be He, within our midst, and this was fashioned through Moses; כִּי מֵעֵת מַתַּן תּוֹרָה הִתְחִיל זֶה הָאוֹר לִהְיוֹת שׁוֹכֵן וּמְקֻשְׁקָשׁ כְּפַעֲמוֹן בְּקֶרֶב לֵב בְּנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל — for from the moment of the Giving of the Torah, this divine light began to abide and resonate like a bell within the inner heart of the Children of Israel. וּמִקְדָּשׁ הוּא לְשׁוֹן קְדֻשָּׁה וְהַבְדָּלָה, וְהוּא הַרְגָּשַׁת הַנִּבְדָּל — Mikdash* (Sanctuary), by contrast, stems from the root of holiness (kedushah) and transcendence/separation, representing the conscious perception of the Transcendent; עַל יְדֵי שְׁלֵמוּת הָעֲבוֹדָה אָנוּ מַשְׂכִּינִים וּמַרְגִּישִׁים בְּתוֹכֵנוּ גַּם אוֹר הַמֻּפְלָא וְהַנִּבְדָּל מֵהַשָּׂגַת כָּל רַעְיוֹן — through the ultimate perfection of spiritual service, we cause even that wondrous, transcendent Light which surpasses all human conception to dwell and be palpably sensed within us. זֶהוּ מַדְרֵגַת יַעֲקֹב אָבִינוּ עָלָיו הַשָּׁלוֹם שֶׁקָּרָאוֹ "בַּיִת", כְּמוֹ

---

[26] Tanna DeBei Eliyahu Rabbah 3: ‘David the king, of blessed memory, further said: I feared out of my joy, and rejoiced out of my fear; my love rose above them all. Therefore the Holy One, blessed be He, made a covenant with me that I should be proficient in Scripture and Mishnah, in laws and aggados, as it says, “For is not my house so with God? For He has established an everlasting covenant with me, ordered in all things and guarded.” “Covenant” means none other than Torah, as it says, “My covenant was with him, life and peace.” “Ordered in all things”—in Scripture, Mishnah, laws, and aggados; “guarded”—that words of Torah should be guarded within me forever and ever.’

[27] Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Kometz HaMinchah 2:3:1: “At first it must be “fear and love,” and afterward it is the reverse: “love and fear,” with love preceding; for the way of the world preceded the Torah. And the world was created with bet, which is fear, which is the contraction, as if they were two: Creator and created. And at first the world was created with the attribute of judgment, and afterward He joined to it the attribute of mercy; therefore the order of the way of the world is fear and love. And this preceded the Torah, which is a Torah of kindness and opens with alef, which is love and cleaving, as if all is one; when one reaches the Torah, love precedes.”

[28] Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Kometz HaMinchah 2:79:9: “and this is also the matter of the intention of intertwining the Names HaVaYaH and Adnus, well known in the words of the masters of truth; and certainly the intention is not only the intertwining of the letters alone, but the intertwining of the meaning, to the heart that understands and feels the meaning of their intertwining […] that is, HaVaYaH means: He was, He is and He will be, as is written in the Tur, Orach Chaim §5, which indicates the spreading of His light, blessed is He, without end and without limit […] and this is the Name of Adnus, which indicates that He is the Master of all and they are His servants”

שֶׁאָמְרוּ זִכְרוֹנָם לִבְרָכָה (פְּסָחִים דַּף פ״ח עַמּוּד א׳)[29] — This embodies the spiritual level of our forefather Jacob, peace be upon him, who termed the Sanctuary a "House" (Bayit), as our Sages of blessed memory stated in Pesachim (88a); כִּידוּעַ מַדְרֵגַת "תִּתֵּן אֱמֶת לְיַעֲקֹב" הוּא שֵׁם הַהַוָּיָ״ה, שֶׁזֶּהוּ בַּיִת קָבוּעַ — for as is known, the attribute of "give truth to Jacob" corresponds to the transcendent Name Havayah, which constitutes a permanent, enduring house.

[לָכֵן בְּבֵית הַמִּקְדָּשׁ הָיָה כֹּהֵן גָּדוֹל הוֹגֶה שֵׁם הַוָּיָ״ה בְּאוֹתִיּוֹתָיו, וְכֵן הַכֹּהֲנִים בַּמִּקְדָּשׁ] — [Therefore, in the Holy Temple, the High Priest would pronounce the Name Havayah according to its letters, and likewise the priests in the Sanctuary,] שֶׁכָּל דָּבָר שֶׁיֵּשׁ לוֹ גְּבוּל מְקֹרֵי אֹהֶל עֲרַאי, שֶׁבְּהִשְׁתַּלֵּם הַגְּבוּל אֵינֶנּוּ — because anything possessing temporal bounds is termed a temporary tent (ohel arai), which ceases to exist once its bounded allotment is exhausted: [וּלְכָךְ מִשְׁכַּן שִׁילֹה "אֹהֶל" וְכוּלֵי בְּחֶלְקוֹ שֶׁל יוֹסֵף, כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתַבְנוּ בְּמָקוֹם אַחֵר מֵעִנְיַן מְשִׁיחַ בֶּן יוֹסֵף שֶׁיֵּהָרֵג[30] — [and for this reason the Mishkan of Shiloh is called a "tent" and stood in the portion of Joseph, corresponding to what we wrote elsewhere regarding the concept of Mashiach ben Yosef who is destined to be slain; מַה שֶּׁאֵין כֵּן בֶּן־דָּוִד "חַיִּים שָׁאַל נָתַתָּ לוֹ", כְּמוֹ יַעֲקֹב אָבִינוּ לֹא מֵת (תַּעֲנִית דַּף ה׳ עַמּוּד ב׳) וְאֵין כָּאן מְקוֹמוֹ[31] [32] — unlike Mashiach ben David, concerning whom Scripture states, "He asked life of You, and You gave it to him," mirroring our forefather Jacob who "did not die" (Ta'anit 5b); and this is not the place to expand upon it.] מַה שֶּׁאֵין כֵּן דָּבָר שֶׁהוּא קָבוּעַ וְקַיָּם לָעַד, זֶה נִבְנָה עַל יְדֵי שְׁלֹמֹה הַמֶּלֶךְ עָלָיו הַשָּׁלוֹם — By contrast, an enduring structure that is established and eternal was built through King Solomon, peace be upon him [שֶׁאַף עַל פִּי שֶׁהֵן שׁוֹמְמִין, בִּקְדֻשָּׁתָן הֵן, דִּקְדְּשָׁה רִאשׁוֹנָה קִדְּשָׁה לָעֲתִיד לָבוֹא, מַה שֶּׁאֵין כֵּן הַמִּשְׁכָּן] — [for "even though they are desolate, they remain in their holiness," as the initial sanctification consecrated the Temple Mount for all eternity, which was not the case with the temporary Mishkan]; וּמְעֻתָּד עַל יְדֵי מְשִׁיחַ בֶּן דָּוִד, שֶׁבִּימֵיהֶם נִשְׁתַּלְּמָה מַלְכוּת יִשְׂרָאֵל עַל הַשְּׁלֵמוּת, שֶׁהוּא שְׁלֵמוּת קִבּוּץ הַפְּנֻיּוֹת יִשְׂרָאֵל, וְכָל הָעַמִּים יִנָּהֲרוּ אֲלֵיהֶם — and its ultimate fruition is designated to unfold through Mashiach ben David, in whose days the sovereignty of Israel attains absolute perfection, which constitutes the complete gathering of the collective of Israel (Knesset Yisrael), when all the nations of the world will stream unto them.

וְהוּא בְּרוּר מַלְכוּתוֹ יִתְבָּרַךְ וְאַדְנוּתוֹ בְּכָל הָעוֹלָם — This brings about the definitive clarification of His Sovereignty, Blessed be He, and His Lordship across the entire world; כִּי רוֹמְמוּת יִשְׂרָאֵל הוּא רוֹמְמוּת הִתְגַּלּוּת כְּבוֹד שָׁמַיִם בָּעוֹלָם כַּאֲשֶׁר עוֹבְדָיו מִתְרוֹמְמִים — for the elevation of Israel is itself the exalted manifestation of Heaven's glory in the world when His servants are uplifted, וּכְמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב (מְגִלָּה דַּף כ״ט עַמּוּד א׳): "גָּלוּ לְבָבֶל, גָּלְתָה שְׁכִינָה" וְכוּלֵי, וְכַנִּזְכָּר לְעֵיל דְּשְׁכִינָה הַיְנוּ כְּנֶסֶת יִשְׂרָאֵל[33] — as taught in Megillah (29a):

---

[29] Pesachim 88a: ‘Rabbi Elazar said: What is meant by, “Many peoples shall go and say: Come, let us ascend to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob”? The God of Jacob, and not the God of Abraham and Isaac? Rather, not like Abraham, in whose case it is called a mountain, as it says, “On the mountain of the Lord He shall be seen”; and not like Isaac, in whose case it is called a field, as it says, “Isaac went out to meditate in the field”; but like Jacob, who called it a house, as it says, “He called the name of that place Beis El.”’

[30] See below, Mishlei 10:7, pp. 294–295: ‘And Rachav’s attachment was to Yehoshua bin Nun and the tribe of Ephraim, which is likened in Psalms to the Mishkan of Shiloh [which was in its portion], which He forsook; and the tribe of Ephraim He did not choose, for it is not a fixed and enduring dwelling.… And therefore Yehoshua was the head of the conquerors, in the sense of “Amalek falls only by the hand of the children of Rachel,” for their level is conquest and the subduing of the inclination; whereas the kingdom of the House of David comes after the preceding conquest of Mashiach ben Yosef, and completes the salvation.’

[31] Taanis 5b: ‘After they had eaten, he told him: Thus said Rabbi Yochanan: Our father Jacob did not die. He replied: Was it then for nothing that the mourners mourned, the embalmers embalmed, and the buriers buried? He answered: I am expounding a verse, for it says, “Do not fear, My servant Jacob, declares the Lord, and do not be dismayed, Israel, for I shall save you from afar and your offspring from the land of their captivity.” Scripture compares him to his offspring: just as his offspring are alive, so too he is alive.’

[32] Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Kometz HaMinchah 2:58:1: “and it is like an alef, and as I wrote elsewhere on the matter of Mashiach ben Yosef, who is on the level of a ruler and will be killed and has no permanence forever; only to David —“He asked life of You, You gave it to him” (Psalms 21:5)—to him life was given forever.”

[33] Megillah 29a: ‘Rabbi Shimon ben Yochai teaches: Come and see how beloved Israel is before the Holy One, blessed be He: wherever they were exiled, the Divine Presence was with them. They were exiled to Egypt, and the

"When they were exiled to Babylonia, the Shechinah was exiled," etc., and as noted above, the Shechinah corresponds to Knesset Yisrael. וְכַאֲשֶׁר יִשְׂרָאֵל נִבְנִים לְהֵיוֹת בְּשַׁלְוָה שְׁלֵמָה, מִדַּת מַלְכוּתוֹ יִתְבָּרַךְ מִתְגַּלֵּית עַל שְׁלֵמוּתָהּ — And when Israel is restored to dwell in consummate tranquility, the divine attribute of His Kingship is revealed in its full perfection; הַיְנוּ כְּפִי הָאֶפְשָׁרִי לְהַצְטַמְצֵם הַכָּרַת הַחַיִּים, שֶׁזֶּהוּ עֶצֶם הַחַיִּים, בְּלִבּוֹת כָּל נִבְרְאֵי הָעוֹלָם — that is, to the maximum extent that the conscious awareness of divine vitality—which constitutes the very core of existence—can be channeled and internalized within the hearts of all created beings; וְכֻלָּם מַכִּירִים וּמְעִידִין שֶׁיֵּשׁ אָדוֹן וּמוֹשֵׁל בַּכֹּל — and all will recognize and bear witness that there is one Master and Sovereign over all existence. וּשְׁלֵמוּת חֵלֶק הַחַיִּים שֶׁבַּלֵּב הוּא עַל יְדֵי הַרְגָּשַׁת כֹּחַ שֵׁם הַהַוָּיָ"ה — Furthermore, the perfection of that inner spark of life within the heart is achieved through sensing the transcendent reality of Havayah, רָצָה לוֹמַר שֶׁהַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ מְהַוֶּה הַכֹּל, וְהוּא מְמַלֵּא כָּל עָלְמִין וְסוֹבֵב כָּל עָלְמִין — meaning the direct realization that Hashem brings all into being (mehaveh hakol), filling all worlds (Memaleh Kol Almin) and encompassing all worlds (Sovev Kol Almin); עַל יְדֵי הַרְגָּשָׁה זוֹ בְּיֶתֶר עֹז הוּא שְׁלֵמוּת כְּנֶסֶת יִשְׂרָאֵל וּמִדַּת מַלְכוּתוֹ כַּנִּזְכָּר לְעֵיל — through feeling this truth with fortified strength, the perfection of Knesset Yisrael and the attribute of His Kingship is actualized, as stated above.

נִמְצָא: שְׁלֵמוּת מִדַּת הַמַּלְכוּת הַנִּפְעֶלֶת בְּלֵב הַנִּבְרָאִים, כַּאֲשֶׁר יְעִידוּן וְיַגִּידוּן כֻּלָּם כְּאֶחָד כִּי הַוָּיָ"ה אֶחָד — Thus we find: the perfection of the attribute of Kingship (Malchut) becomes apparent within the hearts of created beings when all unanimously testify and proclaim that Havayah is One; שֶׁזֶּהוּ תַּכְלִית כָּל רִבּוּי הַחִיּוּת שֶׁבַּלֵּב, שֶׁמִּתְדַּבֵּק יוֹתֵר בְּמָקוֹר הַחַיִּים, וְאָז נִבְנֶה בֵּית הַמִּקְדָּשׁ — for this is the ultimate summit of all intensified vitality in the heart—cleaving ever more deeply to the Source of Life—whereupon the Holy Temple (Beit HaMikdash) is built; רָצָה לוֹמַר מָקוֹם קְבוּעַ לְאוֹר הַשֵּׁם שֶׁהָיָה, הֹוֶה, וְיִהְיֶה, וְלֹא דִּירַת עֲרַאי וּמוּגְבָּלֶת בַּזְּמַן — which signifies an eternal, permanent abode for the Light of Hashem Who "was, is, and will be," rather than a temporary and temporally restricted residence. וְ"אַשְׁכְּחַן מִשְׁכָּן דְּאִיקְרֵי מִקְדָּשׁ" וְכוּלֵי, כִּי בֶּאֱמֶת הַכֹּל אֶחָד, יָחִיד וּמְיֻחָד — And regarding the Talmudic premise, "We find that the Tabernacle was called a Sanctuary," etc., this teaches that in absolute truth both dimensions are one, unified and singular; וְהַרְגָּשַׁת הַהֶבְדֵּל שֶׁבֵּין מִשְׁכָּן לְמִקְדָּשׁ הוּא רַק לַנִּבְרָאִים — and the perceived distinction between Mishkan (immanence) and Mikdash (transcendence) exists solely from the vantage point of created beings, אֲבָל אַשְׁכְּחַן בַּתּוֹרָה שֶׁהִיא מוֹרָה דֵּעָת לְאָדָם שֶׁהַכֹּל אֶחָד, וְכַנִּזְכָּר לְעֵיל — whereas we find in the Torah—which imparts true divine insight to man—that in ultimate truth all is fundamentally One, as explained above.

וְעַל דֶּרֶךְ זֶה נִתְיַסְּדָה כָּל מַסֶּכֶת עֵירוּבִין וְלִמּוּדֶיהָ: לַעֲשׂוֹת מֵרְשׁוּת הָרַבִּים רְשׁוּת הַיָּחִיד — And according to this foundational approach, the entire Tractate of Eruvin and its teachings were established: to transform the public domain (Reshut HaRabim / the realm of apparent multiplicity and division) into the single, unified domain of the One (Reshut HaYachid). וְדָבָר זֶה תִּקְּנוּ שְׁלֹמֹה הַמֶּלֶךְ עָלָיו הַשָּׁלוֹם, הַבּוֹנֶה בֵּית הַמִּקְדָּשׁ, וְעָשָׂה לַתּוֹרָה אָזְנַיִם (כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב עֵירוּבִין דַּף כ"א עַמּוּד ב׳)[34] — This enactment was instituted by King Solomon, peace be upon him—the builder of the Holy Temple—who fashioned metaphorical handles/ears (oznayim) for the Torah (as stated in Eruvin 21b), רָצָה לוֹמַר בֵּית אֲחִיזָה, שֶׁמְּצוֹת הַתּוֹרָה כֻּלָּהּ בְּמַעֲשֶׂה — meaning accessible handles to grasp, given that the commandments of the Torah are

Divine Presence was with them, as it says, "Did I not reveal Myself to your father's house when they were in Egypt?" They were exiled to Babylonia, and the Divine Presence was with them, as it says, "For your sake I was sent to Babylonia." Even when they are destined to be redeemed, the Divine Presence will be with them, as it says, "The Lord your God will return with your captivity." It does not say "He will bring back," but "He will return": this teaches that the Holy One, blessed be He, returns with them from among the exiles.'

[34] Eruvin 21b: Rav Yehudah said in Shmuel's name: 'When Solomon instituted eruvin and handwashing, a heavenly voice proclaimed: "My son, if your heart is wise, my heart too will rejoice"; and, "Be wise, my son, and gladden my heart, that I may answer him who taunts me," etc.' Rav Hamnuna said: 'What does "He spoke three thousand proverbs, and his songs numbered one thousand and five" mean? It teaches that Solomon supplied three thousand parables for every matter of Torah, and one thousand and five explanations for every matter instituted by the Sages.' Rava expounded: 'What does "Besides being wise, Koheles also taught the people knowledge; he weighed, investigated, and arranged many proverbs" mean? "He taught the people knowledge": he taught them through mnemonic signs and explained matters through comparable examples.' Regarding "He weighed and investigated and arranged many proverbs," Ulla said in Rabbi Eliezer's name: 'At first the Torah resembled a basket without handles, until Solomon came and made handles for it.'

thoroughly embedded in physical action; וּמִשְׁלֵי בַּלֵּב, שֶׁהוּא רְמִיזַת כָּל הַמַּעֲשִׂים שֶׁבַּתּוֹרָה וְהַמְּכֻוָּן בָּהֶם — while his Book of Proverbs (Mishlei) speaks directly to the heart, alluding to the inner significance of all actions prescribed by the Torah and their intended mystical focus; וּכְמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב בְּוַיִּקְרָא רַבָּה (רֵישׁ שִׁיר הַשִּׁירִים רַבָּה)[35] שֶׁעַל יָדָם אָדָם עוֹמֵד עַל דִּבְרֵי תוֹרָה — and as stated in Vayikra Rabbah (and at the opening of Shir HaShirim Rabbah), that through these parables and enactments a person arrives at the true comprehension of the words of Torah, רָצָה לוֹמַר לָדַעַת הַמְּכֻוָּן בָּהֶם וְלֶאֱחֹז בָּהֶם — that is, to recognize their divine intent and firmly grasp hold of them.

וְדָבָר זֶה הוּא עַל יְדֵי בֵּית הַמִּקְדָּשׁ, שֶׁהוּא הַהַרְגָּשָׁה דְּקְבוּעַ וְקַיָּם, דְּגְמַת שַׁבָּת — And this perception is attained through the spiritual reality of the Holy Temple, which embodies the permanent and eternally established consciousness, just like the Sabbath; שֶׁלָּכֵן עֲבַד כּוֹכָבִים וּמַזָּלוֹת שֶׁשָּׁבַת וְכוּלֵי (כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב סַנְהֶדְרִין דַּף נ״ח עַמּוּד ב׳)[36] — which is why a non-Jew who observes the Sabbath is liable to death, etc. (as stated in Sanhedrin 58b), וְאָמְרוּ (שַׁבָּת דַּף י׳ עַמּוּד ב׳): "מַתָּנָה טוֹבָה יֵשׁ לִי" וְכוּלֵי[37] — and the Sages noted (Shabbat 10b): "[Hashem said to Moses:] 'I have a precious gift in My treasury... Shabbat is its name,'" שֶׁדָּבָר זֶה מַתָּנָה, שֶׁאֵינוֹ עַל יְדֵי אִתְעָרוּתָא דִּלְתַתָּא[38] — for this sacred reality is an unearned transcendent gift from Above, rather than something generated purely through an arousal from below (itaruta d'letata), דְּגְמַת יוֹם טוֹב דְּיִשְׂרָאֵל מְקֻדָּשֵׁי לְזְמַנִּים (כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב פְּסָחִים דַּף ק״יז עַמּוּד ב׳)[39] וּכְפִי שְׁעַלְמוּת מַעֲשֵׂיהֶם לְתַתָּא — unlike the Festivals (Yom Tov), which are sanctified by the calendar court of Israel (as stated in Pesachim 117b) and dependent upon the completeness of their earthly deeds below; מַה שֶּׁאֵין כֵּן זֶה קְבוּעַ וְקַיָּם, וּלְכָךְ הוּא רַק לִבְנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל, אֲשֶׁר "חֵלֶק הַשֵּׁם עַמּוֹ" — whereas the Sabbath is inherently fixed and eternal, and is therefore reserved exclusively for the Children of Israel, regarding whom it is said: "For Hashem's portion is His people." וְהֵינוּ כִּי כָּל הַמַּעֲשִׂים הוּא לִכְנֶסֶת יִשְׂרָאֵל, אֲבָל לְעֻמָּתָם שֵׁם הַנָּבִיא: "אִם צַדִּיק, מַה תִּתֶּן לוֹ" — For all active human service pertains to rectifying and building the vessel of Knesset Yisrael (the immanent Shechinah), but relative to the essential transcendent Reality of Havayah, Scripture declares: "If

---

[35] Shir HaShirim Rabbah, Introduction 8: 'Rabbi Yosi said: It resembled a large basket full of fruit that had no handle and could not be carried. A clever man came and made handles for it, and it began to be carried by its handles. So, before Solomon arose, no one could comprehend the words of Torah; when Solomon arose, everyone began to understand Torah.… Rabbi Chanina said: It resembled a deep well full of water, whose water was cool, sweet, and good, yet no creature could drink from it. A man came, joined rope to rope and cord to cord, drew water, and drank; then everyone began to draw and drink. Thus, from one matter to another and from one parable to another, Solomon came to understand the secret of Torah.… The Sages said: Do not regard this parable lightly, for through a parable a person can grasp the words of Torah. It resembles a king who lost a gold coin or a precious pearl in his house: does he not find it by means of a wick worth an issar? So do not regard a parable lightly, for through a parable a person grasps the words of Torah.'

[36] Sanhedrin 58b: 'Reish Lakish said: A gentile who rests from labor is liable to death, as it says, "Day and night shall not cease." The Master said: Their warning is itself their death penalty. Ravina said: Even on the second day of the week.'

[37] Shabbos 10b: '"To know that I am the Lord who sanctifies you." The Holy One, blessed be He, said to Moses: I have a good gift in My treasury, and its name is Shabbos. I wish to give it to Israel; go and inform them.… But is not Shabbos something that will become known on its own? Its reward will not become known on its own.'

[38] Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Peri Tzadik, Chayei Sara 10:16: "And behold, in the Gemara (Shabbos 10b) it is stated: "I have a good gift in My treasure-house, and Shabbos is its name," etc.; whereas in the Gemara (Berachos 33b) it is stated: "The Holy One, blessed be He, has nothing in His treasure-house but a storehouse of fear of Heaven," etc.; and seemingly the sayings contradict one another […] but a "storehouse" is the vessel that holds and guards His treasure-house (as in Shabbos 31b, concerning wheat in which one puts a kav of chumton to preserve it); and about this he said that the "storehouse" that holds the whole treasure-house of the Holy One, blessed be He, is only fear of Heaven ("The fear of Hashem is His storehouse"); and Shabbos too is in His treasure-house, and it is placed in the storehouse of fear of Heaven; and on Shabbos Israel are called "those who fear My Name," as they said (Taanis 8b), and even an am ha'aretz has the dread of Shabbos upon him"

[39] Pesachim 117b: 'Rava said: I found the elders of Pumbedisa sitting and saying: On Shabbos, both in prayer and Kiddush, one says, "Who sanctifies Shabbos"; on a festival, both in prayer and Kiddush, "Who sanctifies Israel and the seasons."… Their reason is this: Shabbos is fixed and enduring, so both in prayer and Kiddush one says, "Who sanctifies Shabbos." A festival is established by Israel, for they intercalate the months and determine the years; therefore one says, "Who sanctifies Israel and the seasons."' you are righteous, what do you give Him?"; כִּי מִצַּד הַיִּחוּד הַגָּמוּר הַמִּתְפַּשֵּׁט עַד אֵין קֵץ הוּא הַשְּׁבִיתָה מִמַּעֲשִׂים — since from the perspective of that absolute, infinite Divine Oneness expanding without end, the true state is complete cessation from work (shevitah).

וְזֶהוּ הָאֲחִיזָה לְדִבְרֵי תוֹרָה עַל יְדֵי מִשְׁלֵי שְׁלֹמֹה — And this is the grasping of the words of Torah facilitated through Solomon's Mishlei; ["וְזֶהוּ "יִשְׂמַח מֹשֶׁה בְּמַתְּנַת חֶלְקוֹ — [and this is the esoteric depth of the Sabbath prayer: "Moses rejoiced in the gift of his portion," כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב בַּזֹּהַר (תִּקּוּנֵי זֹהַר תִּקּוּן י״ג): דְּמֹשֶׁה מִלְּגַו הוּא יַעֲקֹב מִלְּבַר[40] — as explained in the Zohar (Tikkunei Zohar, Tikkun 13): that Moses inwardly is Jacob externally. רָצָה לוֹמַר דְּבְחִיצוֹנִיּוּת כָּל יִשְׂרָאֵל זֶרַע אַבְרָהָם, יִצְחָק, וְיַעֲקֹב זָכוּ לִקְדֻשַּׁת שַׁבָּת לִהְיוֹת לְקִנְיָן שֵׁם הַוָּיָ״ה וּמִתְפַּשֵּׁט בָּהֶם גַּם כֵּן בְּחִיצוֹנִיּוּת — This means that externally, all Israel—as the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob—merited the sanctification of the Sabbath, so that their hearts form a divine portion of Havayah, with that holiness spreading across their outward existence as well; אֲבָל בִּפְנִימִיּוּת הוּא רַק מֹשֶׁה, שֶׁהוּא חֵלֶק הַדַּעַת שֶׁל כָּל נַפְשׁוֹת יִשְׂרָאֵל כִּידוּעַ — yet on the innermost plane it is experienced specifically through Moses, who represents the collective faculty of divine consciousness (Da'at) of all Jewish souls, as is known; וּמִצַּד הַדַּעַת וְהַתַּלְמִידֵי חֲכָמִים אֲצָלָם הוּא בִּפְנִימִיּוּת לִבָּם וּמוֹחָם גַּם כֵּן הַשָּׂגָה זוֹ שֶׁהִיא מַתָּנָה גְּמוּרָה — and from the perspective of this Da'at and the Torah scholars (Talmidei Chachamim), this sublime comprehension is palpably sensed in the innermost core of their hearts and minds as an absolute, unearned gift from Above.

כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב (שַׁבָּת דַּף ל״א עַמּוּד ב׳): "אֵין לוֹ לְהַקָּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּךְ הוּא בְּעוֹלָמוֹ אֶלָּא יִרְאַת שָׁמַיִם", שֶׁזֶּה לְבַד מֵאִתְעָרוּתָא דִּלְתַתָּא[41] — It is just as the Sages stated (Shabbat 31b): "The Holy One, Blessed be He, has nothing in His world except awe of Heaven," for reverent awe alone stems directly from man's effort from below, וּמַה שֶּׁאֵין כֵּן אַהֲבָה בָּא לָאָדָם מֵעַצְמוֹ, כִּידוּעַ שֶׁזֶּה מַתָּנָה] — whereas authentic divine love flows into a person spontaneously as an endowed gift from Above, as is known]; וְאֵין כָּאן מָקוֹם לְהַאֲרִיךְ עוֹד[42] — and this is not the place to elaborate further. וּרְשׁוּת הָרַבִּים הוּא מִצַּד הַפֵּרוּד הַנִּגְלֶה — Now, the public domain (Reshut HaRabim) spiritually embodies the dimension of apparent outward division and multiplicity; וְיֵשׁ עֲצוֹת שֶׁיִּהְיֶה נַעֲשֶׂה מֵרְשׁוּת הָרַבִּים רְשׁוּת הַיָּחִיד כַּנִּזְכָּר לְעֵיל, שֶׁזֶּהוּ תַּכְלִית הָעֲבוֹדָה — and there exist spiritual methods and halachic remedies to transform this fragmented public realm into the unified domain of the Singular One, as mentioned above, for this is the ultimate purpose of all spiritual service.

וְלָמְדוּ מִפֶּתַח שֶׁל הֵיכָל — And our Sages derived the legal dimensions of an entranceway from the entrance of the Sanctuary (Heikhal); רָצָה לוֹמַר כְּסֵדֶר הַכְּנִיסָה אֶל הַהֵיכָל, שֶׁהִיא הַקְּדֻשָּׁה הַשְּׁנִיָּה מִלְּמַעְלָה לְמַטָּה בְּסֵדֶר הָעֲשָׂיָה קְדֻשּׁוֹת דְּסוֹף פָּרָק קַמָּא דִּכְלִים[43] — meaning, according to the order of entry into the Heikhal, which constitutes the second highest grade of sanctity descending from top to bottom within the ten

---

[40] Tikkunei Zohar, Tikkun 13, 29a: 'Concerning Jacob, at that thigh it is said, "He limped upon his thigh," for the yod flew away from him and only akev remained.… When the sukkah is completed in its thigh, it is said of Jacob, "Jacob arrived whole." Jacob is certainly the image of the middle pillar from its outward side. Moses was there too, but from its inward side: this one is from the body and this one from the soul. The two thighs of the middle pillar when complete are Netzach and Hod. When will the middle pillar be complete? When it joins the Divine Presence, as it says, "Jacob journeyed to Sukkos and built himself a house."'

[41] Shabbos 31b: 'Rabbi Yochanan said in Rabbi Elazar's name: The Holy One, blessed be He, has nothing in His world except fear of Heaven alone, as it says, "Now, Israel, what does the Lord your God ask of you, except to fear?" And it is written, "He said to man: Behold, fear of the Lord—that is wisdom." For in the Greek language they call "one" hen.'

[42] Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Takanat HaShavin 5:5: "But in this world the Holy One, blessed is He, has in His world only the treasury of the fear of Heaven alone (Berachos 33b). Fear is the arousal from below, as is known, about which it is said, "This is the gate to Hashem" (Psalms 118:20), for it is "the gate to enter into faith": at the start of a person's entry into the service of the Blessed Name, it is through the fear of Heaven, which is "the beginning of wisdom" (Psalms 111:10)."

[43] Kelim 1:9: 'The area between the Ulam and the altar is holier than the preceding area, for those with bodily blemishes and those with unkempt hair may not enter there. The Heichal is holier than that, for no one may enter it without having washed his hands and feet. The Holy of Holies is holier than them all, for no one enters it except the High Priest on Yom Kippur during the service.'

progressive degrees of holiness enumerated at the end of the first chapter of Tractate Keilim, שֶׁרוֹמֶזֶת אֶל קְדֻשַּׁת הַמַּחֲשָׁבָה הַנִּגְלוֹת בַּמּוֹחַ — which alludes to the sanctification of conscious thought revealed in the intellect [מַה שֶּׁאֵין כֵּן קֹדֶשׁ הַקָּדָשִׁים רוֹמֵז לְעֹמֶק הָרָצוֹן וְרֵאשִׁית הַמַּחֲשָׁבָה, כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתַבְתִּי בְּמָקוֹם אַחֵר בְּפֵרוּשׁ מִשְׁנָה דְּשָׁם][44] — [whereas the Holy of Holies (Kodesh HaKodashim) symbolizes the transcendent depth of primal Will and the earliest root of Thought, as I have written elsewhere in expounding the Mishnah there], שֶׁאֵין נִכְנָסִים לְשָׁם שֶׁלֹּא רְחוּץ יָדַיִם וְרַגְלַיִם — into which priests may not enter without washing their hands and feet; רָצָה לוֹמַר מְנֻקֶּה בִּכְלֵי הַמַּעֲשֶׂה — meaning that one must be thoroughly cleansed and purified in one's instruments of physical action; שֶׁזֶּה גַּם כֵּן נִטְילַת יָדַיִם שֶׁתִּקֵּן שְׁלֹמֹה הַמֶּלֶךְ עָלָיו הַשָּׁלוֹם, שֶׁיְּסַד הַהֵיכָל[45] — and this likewise corresponds to the ritual washing of hands (Netilat Yadayim) instituted by King Solomon, peace be upon him, who founded the Holy Temple; ["אַבָּא יָסַד בְּרַתָּא": רָצָה לוֹמַר שֶׁיְּסַד קְדֻשָּׁה זוֹ [עַל דֶּרֶךְ הַנֶּאֱמָר — meaning that he firmly established this level of holiness (in accordance with the Kabbalistic axiom: "The Father established the Daughter" / transcendent wisdom structuring the lower realm), וּכְמִשְׁנָתָהּ, שֶׁזֶּה עַצְמוֹ עִנְיַן עֵירוּבִין — and according to its precise Mishnaic teachings, which themselves constitute the inner reality of the laws of Eruvin; וְאֵין כָּאן מָקוֹם לְהַאֲרִיךְ כָּעֵת עוֹד — and this is not the place to elaborate on this any further at present.

---

[44] Kisvei Beis Ishbitz–Radzin — Sod Yesharim, Yom Kippur 45:1: "This also explains why he could not pray at all in the innermost chamber. There the union of all Israel's garments with His blessed, limitless light was explicitly apparent, so there was no place for prayer: could limitless light be bounded by a prayer confined within the narrow limits of human apprehension? In the outer chamber, however, where the clarity was not so overwhelming, he could indeed offer a brief prayer that all the abundance Hashem bestows upon us should also be understood within our apprehension. For although Hashem desires to do good and constantly bestows abundance, he nevertheless prayed that this goodness should also become explicitly recognizable within our limited apprehension."

[45] Eruvin 21b: 'Rav Yehudah said in the name of Shmuel: At the time that Shlomo instituted eruvin and the washing of hands, a Heavenly voice went forth and said: "My son, if your heart is wise, my heart too shall rejoice" (Proverbs 23:15); and it says: "Be wise, my son, and gladden my heart, that I may answer him who taunts me" (Proverbs 27:11).'

Eruvin — Section 2

Torah as the Pattern of Creation; Writing and the Song of Haazinu

(עירובין דף י״ג עמוד א׳) וְכוּלֵי "הֱוֵי זָהִיר בִּמְלַאכְתְּךָ, שֶׁמְּלַאכְתְּךָ[ה][46] — [5] "Be meticulous in your craft, for your craft [is the work of Heaven]" etc. (Eruvin 13a): כְּיִדּוּעַ דְּהַתּוֹרָה צִיּוּר וּדְפוּס כָּל מַעֲשֵׂה בְּרֵאשִׁית, כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב בִּבְרֵאשִׁית רַבָּה פָּרָק א׳[47] — for as is known, the Torah serves as the architect's blueprint and master mold for all of Creation, as recorded in Bereishit Rabbah (chapter 1); כִּי הִוא מְקוֹר הַחַיּוּת שֶׁל כָּל חֶלְקֵי הַנִּבְרָאִים, כְּלָלֵיהֶם וּפְרָטֵיהֶם וְכָל שְׁנוּיֵיהֶם — for it is the foundational wellspring of life for every facet of created beings—their general categories, their specific details, and all their diverse variations; אֶחָד לֹא נֶעְדָּר שֶׁלֹּא יִהְיֶה חֵלֶק עַצְמוּת חַיּוּתוֹ בְּתוֹךְ דִּבְרֵי הַתּוֹרָה — not a single entity is lacking whose essential spark of vitality is not embedded within the words of the Torah. וְכִידּוּעַ זֶה, וְאֵין כָּאן מְקוֹמוֹ לְבָאֵר הַדְּבָרִים בַּאֲרִיכוּת לַהַסְבִּירָם אֶל אֹזֶן שׁוֹמַעַת[48] — This principle is well known, and this is not the place to elaborate on these matters at length to unpack them for an attentive ear; וְזֶה עִנְיַן "כִּתְבוּ [לָכֶם אֶת] הַשִּׁירָה" [הַזֹּאת], וְרָצָה לוֹמַר כָּל הַתּוֹרָה כֻּלָּהּ[49] — and this explains the commandment: "Now write down [for yourselves] this song (shirah)," which our Sages interpret as referring to the entire Torah in its entirety.

וְאֵינוֹ לְשׁוֹן זֶמֶר וְשִׁיר, דְּעַל זֶה נֶעֱנַשׁ דָּוִד הַמֶּלֶךְ עָלָיו הַשָּׁלוֹם, כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב בְּסוֹטָה (דַּף ל״ה עמוד א׳) — [50] This does not denote mere lyrical music or melody—an interpretation for which King David, peace be upon him, was rebuked and penalized, as recorded in Sotah (35a) [for referring to the statutes as "songs"]; רַק

---

[46] Eruvin 13a: Rav Yehudah said in Shmuel's name, citing Rabbi Meir: 'When I studied under Rabbi Akiva, I would put vitriol into the ink, and he said nothing to me. When I came to Rabbi Yishmael, he asked: "My son, what is your occupation?" I answered: "I am a scribe." He said: "My son, be careful in your work, for your work is the work of Heaven. Should you omit or add a single letter, you would destroy the entire world." I told him: "I have a substance called vitriol, which I put into the ink." He said: "May vitriol be put into ink? Does the Torah not say, 'He shall write and erase'—writing that can be erased?"' What was Rabbi Yishmael saying, and what was Rabbi Meir answering? Rabbi Meir meant: 'Not only am I proficient and therefore do not err by omitting or adding letters; even the possibility that a fly might settle on the projection of a dalet, erase it, and turn it into a resh need not concern us. I have a substance called vitriol which I put into the ink.'

[47] Bereishis Rabbah 1:1: 'Another interpretation: Amon means craftsman. The Torah says: I was the Holy One's instrument of craftsmanship. In ordinary practice, when a mortal king builds a palace, he does not build it according to his own understanding, but according to that of a craftsman. The craftsman, too, does not build it according to his own understanding: he has plans and notebooks by which to know how to make the rooms and how to make the doorways. So the Holy One, blessed be He, looked into the Torah and created the world. The Torah said, "In the beginning God created." "Beginning" means none other than Torah, as it says, "The Lord acquired me as the beginning of His way."'

[48] Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Sichat Malakhei HaSharet 2:17: "The Torah is the blueprint of all the work of Creation, as stated in Bereishit Rabbah, chapter 1. Therefore all the different modes of divine conduct that came into being at Creation are alluded to in their blueprint and design, which is the Torah; this is why it makes human beings wise. The whole renewed Creation exists for the sake of human conduct, so that a person should possess free choice and choose the good, serving the King of glory. His glory is recognized when someone can choose the opposite yet rejects it; this is the intended purpose of all Creation. All the modes of divine conduct therefore came into being for his sake, and the wisdom that consists of knowing these modes belongs to him. All these modes of the blessed God's conduct apply only when there is a possibility of inclination toward different directions, allowing conduct to vary in relation to each direction. This applies to human souls. Angels, however, have no such inclination, so there is no place for different modes of conduct toward them, and the Torah has no application to them. Wisdom is therefore hidden from them: it is not in heaven; Moses came and brought it down to earth."

[49] Kisvei Rav Tzadok — Peri Tzadik, Ki Teitzei 13:1: "That is, words of Torah are called by the term "song," as is expounded (Chagigah 12b): "and at night His song is with me"—about one who occupies himself with Torah at night in this world. And likewise they expounded (Sanhedrin 21b): "And now write for yourselves this song"—that it is a mitzvah to write a Torah scroll; and the Torah is the aspect of wisdom, as stated in the holy Zohar (III 81a): there is no Torah without wisdom, etc., and all is on one rung."

[50] Sotah 35a: 'Rava expounded: Why was David punished? Because he called the words of Torah "songs," as it says, "Your statutes were songs to me in the house of my sojournings." The Holy One, blessed be He, said to him: Words of Torah, concerning which it is written, "Should you let your eyes fly away from it, it is gone"—you call them songs? I shall cause you to stumble in a matter that even schoolchildren know. For it is written, "But to the sons of Kohath he gave none, because the service of the sacred things was upon them"—the verse continues, "they shall carry on the shoulder"—yet David brought the Ark on a wagon.'

הוֹרָאַת "שִׁיר" דָּבָר הַמַּקִּיף סֵדֶר וְהֶקֵּף אֵיזֶה עִנְיָן — rather, the true root meaning of shir denotes an all-encompassing cycle that encloses a complete, ordered system, כְּמוֹ (שַׁבָּת דַּף נ"א עַמּוּד ב'): "כָּל בַּעֲלֵי הַשִּׁיר יוֹצְאִין בַּשִּׁיר"[51] — as in the Mishnah (Shabbat 51b): "All animals that wear a neck-ring (shir) may go out with their ring"; — וְכֵן זֶמֶר וְנִגּוּן מַקִּיף כָּל חֶלְקֵי הַתְּנוּעוֹת וְסִדּוּרָם — and likewise, musical melody encompasses and integrates all rhythmic vocal intervals and their structured arrangements. וְשִׁירַת "הַאֲזִינוּ" מַקֶּפֶת כָּל הַקּוֹמוֹת לְבְנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל בְּכָל הַדּוֹרוֹת, וְסֵדֶר הַהֶקֵּף הַזֶּה נִקְרָא "שִׁירָה" — The song of Ha'azinu circumscribes all the spiritual statures and historic trajectories of the Children of Israel across all generations, and this comprehensive circular order is called shirah; וְכָל הַתּוֹרָה כֻּלָּהּ כּוֹלֶלֶת סֵדֶר הֶקֵּף כָּל הַחַיִּים אֲשֶׁר עַל פְּנֵי הָאֲדָמָה, סֵדֶר חַיּוּתָם שֶׁל כָּל פְּרָטֵי הַנִּבְרָאִים, עַל כֵּן נִקְרֵאת "שִׁירָה" — and the entire Torah encompasses the full cyclic order of all life upon the earth—the structural vitality animating every specific creature—which is why it is titled shirah.

וּבְמָקוֹם הַזֶּה בְּיִחוּד אֲצֶל מִצְוַת "כִּתְבוּ", אֲשֶׁר עִנְיָנָהּ הַגְּלוּי הַמְפֹרָשׁ וְנִכָּר לָעַיִן — And in this context specifically, regarding the commandment "Write down" [the mitzvah to write a Sefer Torah], whose inner purpose is to bring forth an explicit revelation that is visible and perceptible to the eyes: וְהֵינוּ כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב פֶּרֶק קַמָּא דִּבְרָכוֹת (דַּף ו' עַמּוּד ב'): "כָּל הָעוֹלָם כֻּלּוֹ לֹא נִבְרָא אֶלָּא"[52] וּכְמוֹ — this aligns with what is taught in the first chapter of Berakhot (6b): "The entire world was created solely [to accompany this person]," כִּי הָאָדָם הַשָּׁלֵם יְסוֹד הָעוֹלָם, אֲשֶׁר אֵלָיו מַטְרַת כָּל חֶלְקֵי חַיּוּת שֶׁל כָּל הַנִּבְרָאִים, וְהוּא כַּמֶּרְכָּז בְּתוֹךְ עֻגָּלָתָם — for the spiritually perfected person is the foundation of the world (tzaddik yesod olam), to whom the vital currents of all created beings gravitate, functioning as the focal center within their enclosing circumference; וּכְמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב בַּחֲגִיגָה (דַּף י"ב עַמּוּד ב'): "עַל עַמּוּד אֶחָד הָעוֹלָם עוֹמֵד, וְצַדִּיק שְׁמוֹ"[53] — and as written in Chagigah (12b): "The world stands upon a single pillar, and its name is Tzaddik." וְזֶה שֶׁאָמַר הַכָּתוּב: "כִּתְבוּ לָכֶם" — מִשֶּׁלָּכֶם, מֵחֶלֶק חַיּוּתוֹ אֲשֶׁר חָלַק לוֹ הַשֵּׁם, יִבְחַר וְיִגְלֶה כָּל חֶלְקֵי הַחַיּוּת שֶׁל כָּל הַבְּרוּאִים — And this is the inner depth of "write for yourselves"—from that which is your very own, meaning that from the individualized spark of vitality which Hashem apportioned to him, the righteous person articulates and illuminates the vital life-force animating all creatures, שֶׁיִּהְיֶה מְבֹרָר וְנִגְלֶה לָעַיִן שֶׁיֵּשׁ מְחַיֶּה חַיִּים, שֶׁמִּמֶּנּוּ חַיּוּתָם וְקִיּוּמָם — so that it becomes clarified and visually evident that there is an ultimate Sustainer of Life from Whom all existence draws vitality and enduring preservation.

וּלְכָךְ זֶה מִצְוָה אַחֲרוֹנָה בַּתּוֹרָה, שֶׁזֶּה אִי אֶפְשָׁר אֶלָּא אַחַר שֶׁכְּבָר הִשְׁלִים נַפְשׁוֹ בְּכָל הַשַּׁעֲרִים הַקּוֹדְמִים — For this reason, writing the Torah constitutes the 613th and final commandment in the Torah, because this level cannot be actualized until one has perfected one's soul through all preceding spiritual gates, וְנִשְׁתַּלֵּם בְּכָל מֵינֵי שְׁלֵמוּת הַנִּבְרָא, שֶׁהוּא כָּל הַתּוֹרָה כֻּלָּהּ, הַכּוֹלֶלֶת חַיֵּי עוֹלָם — achieving every dimension of human spiritual perfection embodied by the entire Torah, which contains eternal life (chayei olam), כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב פֶּרֶק קַמָּא דְּשַׁבָּת (דַּף י' עַמּוּד א'), וּכְמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב: "וְחַיֵּי עוֹלָם נָטַע בְּתוֹכֵנוּ"[54] — as taught in the first chapter of Shabbat (10a),

---

[51] Shabbos 51b: 'With what may an animal go out, and with what may it not go out? A camel may go out with a halter, a dromedary with a nose-ring, a Libyan donkey with a bridle, and a horse with a neck-ring. All animals that wear a neck-ring may go out with the ring and may be led by the ring.' The word translated "neck-ring" is shir, the same spelling as the word for "song."

[52] Berachos 6b: 'Rabbi Chelbo said in Rav Huna's name: The words of anyone who possesses fear of Heaven are heeded, as it says, "The end of the matter, all is heard: fear God." What does "for this is the whole of man" mean? Rabbi Elazar said: The Holy One, blessed be He, said: The entire world was created only for this person. Rabbi Abba bar Kahana said: This person is equal in worth to the entire world. Rabbi Shimon ben Azzai says—and some say Rabbi Shimon ben Zoma says: The entire world was created only to accompany this person.'

[53] Chagigah 12b: 'The Sages say: The earth stands upon twelve pillars, as it says, "He established the boundaries of peoples according to the number of the children of Israel." Some say: Seven pillars, as it says, "She hewed out her seven pillars." Rabbi Elazar ben Shammua says: Upon one pillar, and its name is Tzaddik, "righteous," as it says, "The righteous one is the foundation of the world."'

[54] Shabbos 10a: 'Rava saw Rav Hamnuna prolonging his prayer. He said: They leave eternal life and occupy themselves with the life of the moment! Rav Hamnuna, however, held that the time for prayer is separate and the time for Torah is separate. Rabbi Yirmiyah was sitting before Rabbi Zeira, and they were studying a teaching. It grew late for prayer, and Rabbi Yirmiyah was hurrying to pray. Rabbi Zeira applied to him the verse: "One who turns his ear away from hearing Torah—even his prayer is an abomination."' and as we recite: "and He planted eternal life within our midst." וְאַחַר שֶׁנִּשְׁתַּלֵּם נַפְשׁוֹ בָּזֶה, אָז יָכוֹל לִכְתֹּב וּלְגַלּוֹת וּלְבָרֵר לַכֹּל — And only once a person's soul has attained this total integration is he able to write, reveal, and clarify this divine reality to all; וּכְמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב: "סוֹף דָּבָר [הַכֹּל נִשְׁמָע, אֶת הָאֱלֹהִים יְרָא וְאֶת מִצְוֹתָיו שְׁמוֹר] כִּי זֶה כָּל הָאָדָם" — matching the verse at the close of Ecclesiastes: "The end of the matter, [all having been heard: fear God and keep His commandments,] for this is the whole of man," שֶׁדָּרֶךְ זֶה הוּא סוֹף דָּבָר, שֶׁ"כָּל הָעוֹלָם כֻּלּוֹ לֹא נִבְרָא [אֶלָּא לְצַוּוֹת לָזֶה]" וְכוּלֵי — for this way is the "end of the matter": "the entire world was created only to accompany this one," etc.; וְעַל תַּכְלִית וּמְכֻוָּן זֶה: "אֶת הָאֱלֹקִים יְרָא" בְּעֹמֶק הַיִּרְאָה כָּל כָּךְ, עַד שֶׁיִּהְיֶה נִגְלֶה וְנִרְאֶה לְעַיִן כֹּל כִּי יֵשׁ בּוֹרֵא וּמַנְהִיג שֶׁכָּל הַנִּבְרָאִים חַיּוֹתָם מִמֶּנּוּ — and toward this ultimate purpose and objective: "Fear God," penetrating into such depth of reverent awe until it becomes outwardly manifest and visible to every eye that there is a Creator and Guide from Whom all creatures derive their vitality.

נִמְצָא שֶׁמֵּחֶלֶק חַיִּים שֶׁחָלַק לוֹ הַשֵּׁם, גִּלָּה וּבֵרַר הַצַּדִּיק כִּי יֵשׁ חֵלֶק חַיִּים בְּכָל הַבְּרוּאִים [שֶׁרַק זֶה הַחַיִּים כַּאֲשֶׁר הַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ מְחַיֶּה אוֹתָם, שֶׁזֶּה נִקְרָא חַיִּים — Thus we find that from the portion of divine life allotted to him by Hashem, the tzaddik reveals and demonstrates that an authentic spark of life exists within all creatures — [for existence is truly considered "life" only when Hashem, Blessed be He, animates it with holiness, which alone qualifies as real life; וּכְמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב בִּשְׁמוֹת רַבָּה (פָּרָשָׁה ה׳) עַל פַּרְעֹה שֶׁבִּקֵּשׁ בֵּין הַמֵּתִים[55] — as expounded in Shemot Rabbah (parashah 5) regarding Pharaoh, who sought the name of Hashem in the necrologies of the dead; כִּי מַה שֶּׁזּוֹלֵת הַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרַךְ נִקְרָא מֵת וְדָבָר בָּטֵל מִן הָעוֹלָם, וְזֶה יָדוּעַ וּמוּבָן] — because whatever severs itself from Hashem is termed spiritually "dead" and an absolute nullity in the world, as is known and understood]; הֲרֵי הַחַיִּים שֶׁבָּהֶם נִתְגַּלּוּ עַל יָדוֹ, וּכְמוֹ שֶׁהָיָה אַבְרָהָם אָבִינוּ עָלָיו הַשָּׁלוֹם וְדוֹמָיו, וְזֶה עִנְיַן "כָּל הָעוֹלָם כֻּלּוֹ" וְכוּלֵי — behold, the divine vitality animating them is revealed through him, as occurred through our forefather Abraham, peace be upon him, and those like him; and this is the inner meaning of "the entire world was created [for this purpose]." וְזֶהוּ בְּ"סוֹף דָּבָר", אַחַר סוֹף הַשְּׁלֵמוּת הָאֶפְשָׁרִי לָאָדָם, לְכָךְ הוּא סוֹף הַתּוֹרָה כַּנִּזְכָּר לְעֵיל — This culmination takes place at the "end of the matter"—following the apex of human spiritual perfection—which is why this mitzvah stands at the very end of the Torah, as noted above.

וְזֶהוּ מַה שֶּׁאָמְרוּ זִכְרוֹנָם לִבְרָכָה (עֵיֵן בְּרֵאשִׁית רַבָּה פָּרָשָׁה ע״ז): מָה הַקָּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּךְ הוּא בּוֹרֵא עוֹלָמוֹת, אַף צַדִּיקִים[56] — And this is what our Sages of blessed memory taught (see Bereishit Rabbah, parashah 77): "Just as the Holy One, Blessed be He, creates worlds, so too do the tzaddikim"; כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתוּב: "הַמְחַדֵּשׁ בְּטוּבוֹ בְּכָל יוֹם תָּמִיד מַעֲשֵׂה בְרֵאשִׁית" — as we declare in prayer: "Who in His goodness renews daily, continuously, the work of Creation," שֶׁבְּכָל יוֹם יֵשׁ בְּרִיאָה מְחֻדָּשֶׁת, שְׁלוּלֵי כֹּחַ חַיִּים חָדָשׁ שֶׁנּוֹתֵן לַבְּרוּאִים בְּכָל יוֹם, הָיָה כְּלֹא הָיָה — for every day witnesses a renewed act of creation, such that without the fresh influx of life bestowed upon creatures daily, all would instantly revert to absolute nothingness. וְזֶהוּ גַּם עַל יְדֵי הַצַּדִּיקִים, כִּי הַשְׁפָּעוֹת הַחֵלֶק הַחַיִּים לְקִיּוּם הַבְּרוּאִים הוּא עַל יְדֵי שֶׁמַּכִּירִים וּמְגַלִּים בְּבֵרוּר — And this sustaining renewal is also [55] Shemos Rabbah 5:14: 'Pharaoh said to them: Wait for me until I search my book. Immediately he entered his palace and examined every nation and its gods. He began reading: the god of Moab, the god of Ammon, the god of Sidon. He said: I searched for His Name in my treasury and did not find it.… So Moses and Aaron said to Pharaoh: Fool! Is it customary to seek the dead among the living, or the living among the dead? Our God is living, whereas those you speak of are dead.… Our God's strength and might fill the world. He existed before the world was created and will exist at the end of the whole world. He formed you and placed the breath of life within you.'

---

[56] Midrash Tehillim (Shocher Tov), Psalm 116, on verse 15: This passage appears under Psalm 116 in the consulted edition; the Hebrew reference to 115:8 is preserved. '"Precious in the Lord's eyes is the death of His faithful ones." A king went into the wilderness with his armies, and his provisions ran out. He said: If only someone would give me one loaf! A man came, gave him a loaf, and received him with food and drink. Later he stood before the king, saying: I am the one who gave you a loaf in the wilderness. The king appointed him a ruler, then a governor, but each time he answered: I gave to you and served you for this? Finally the king said: You shall be like me; do you ask for more than me? So the Holy One says to the righteous: You shall be like Me.… "If you bring forth the precious from the worthless, you shall be as My mouth." As I create worlds and revive the dead, so shall you.'
Bereishis Rabbah 77:1: 'You find that whatever the Holy One, blessed be He, is destined to do in the future, He has anticipated and done through the righteous in this world. The Holy One, blessed be He, revives the dead, and Eliyahu revived the dead; the Holy One, blessed be He, withholds rain, and Eliyahu withheld rain; the Holy One, blessed be He, blesses the little, and Eliyahu blessed the little.…'